CHAOTIC SCENE — Ottawa, Canada rescue workers swarm over wreckage of a 60-foot-high bridge today, seeking more victims trapped in the collapse of a new 160-foot span last night. Rain and darkness hampered rescue work overnight; seven bodies and 53 injured workmen have been found.

BALES IS PRAISED IN WEISS HANDLING

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

The Marin County Grand Jury last night praised Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales' handling of the Weiss case, which played an explosive part in his race for reelection last spring.

At the same time, the grand jury vindicated the roles played by Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating and James Soetaert of the county probation department.

Said the grand jury's report: "There is nothing mysterious or secret or sinister about the transfer of this case to Marin County, or its disposition thereafter."

The case — involving an embezzlement of more than $400,000 in Santa Clara County — was made a political issue by attorney A. Leonard Bjorklund in his race against Bales. He claimed Bales had either not investigated the case sufficiently, or had not made the facts available to Judge Keating.

Attached to the grand jury report was a report on an investigation of the case submitted by Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch, and prepared by Asst. Attny. General Albert W. Harris Jr.

On April 5, 1965, James J. Weiss, 28-year-old self-employed insurance agent of 19 Arcangel Way, San Rafael, pleaded nolo contendere in Santa Clara County Superior Court to charges of embezzling $438,316.18 from the Community Bank of San Jose.

On May 14, 1965, Superior

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —A mistrial was declared today for four men charged with murdering Dow Wilson, Painters Union leader.

The mistrial resulted because a slip bearing the name of one juror fell from an antiquated steel drum and lay undetected on the floor.

CHALLENGE WORKS

Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington upheld a defense challenge that the rights of the four accused had been prejudiced. They are Norman Call and Max Ward, Sacramento painting contractors, Carl Black, Oakland account, and Richard Rock of Mill Valley, San Francisco tavern owner.

Judge Elkington said the trial would start again tomorrow with an entirely new panel of prospective jurors.

The mistrial resulted after three days of effort to choose a jury.

ROCK FAILS

Defendant Rock failed yesterday in an attempt to get charges against him set aside.

The State Supreme Court turned down, without comment, two petitions by Rock asking that the charges be set aside. One petition contended the indictment showed no probable cause for the charges against him and the other contended he had not been brought to trial within 60 days after the indictment.

Rock, owner of the Square Chair bar in San Francisco, is accused with three other defendants of the shotgun killing April 5 of Wilson, leader of an AFL-CIO Painters Union Local. Ward and Call were employer

Mothers, Seeger Argue Over Water

Three irate Terra Linda housewives complained to the Marin Municipal Water District Board yesterday that their water is so unfit "our children can't drink it."

The women, who said they represented 15 homeowners near Santa Margarita School, told the board they had been receiving unfit water intermittently for three years, but that it had gotten worse the last three weeks. They presented the board with a quart jar full of unclear water as a sample.

"We want to know if it's fit to drink," demanded Mrs. Betty Beckstrand of 908 Patricia Way. She said her three children had suffered diarrhea from drinking the water.

After William Seeger attempted to explain what might be causing the cloudy water, Mrs. Beckstrand exploded "even now you won't even tell us if it's fit to drink."

Seeger, irritated, said the water met state public health standards "bacteriologically" but that its "turbidity," or amount of sediment, might be high. "No one's ever died drinking colored water," he told her.

"No one can drink it either," Mrs. Beckstrand snapped.

Seeger said the sediment could be mainly caused by the breakdown of a filter bed and valve at the San Geronimo treatment plant. Too, the Terra Linda Fire Department has been testing fire hydrants, which "can kick up" the sediment, he said.

Seeger said the plant would be back in full operation Saturday and said firemen had agreed to limit their testing to night hours.

When the mothers asked why they couldn't see the reports on water purity, Seeger said he had shown them the reports in a private meeting Tuesday. "But those were June and July reports and this is August, Mr. Seeger," Mrs. Beckstrand said.

The board agreed to start mailing her the monthly reports. Board President William A. Marcus expressed surprise at their complaints. He said the August water quality reports "showed things are going well."

The third housewife, Mrs. Barbara Crummins of 921 Patricia Way, commented that the district's public relations were bad since it had never told the

County Tax Estimate Now $2.23

Latest Marin County tax rate estimates for fiscal 1967 were released today by Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

The county general fund will require a tax rate of $2.23 per $100 assessed valuation, compared with $2.185 last year. The library tax will be 16.5 cents compared with 16 cents last year, and the structural fire tax will be 18 cents compared with 8 cents last year.

Mitchell based the estimates on final assessed valuation figures for the county roll and nearly final figures for the public utility assessment roll.

The public utility roll totals $33,492,460, but could be changed in equalization hearings now underway before the state board of equalization.

Mitchell warned that the tax rate estimate might have to be revised upward if revenues are

Ottawa Span Falls On Workmen; Seven Die, 53 Hurt, Two Missing

OTTAWA (AP) —Workers of hacked through twisted steel and concrete in an Ottawa park today searching for the bodies of two more construction workkers believed killed when a bridge collapsed.

Seven bodies have already been recovered and the toll of injured stood at 53. Of these, 18 were reported in critical condition.

A steady downpour turned the park earth to slippery mud through which the 30 rescue workers slid. The rain and lack of heavy equipment had forced a four-and-one-half hour interruption of the search.

The new Heron Road bridge under construction over the Rideau River gave way yesterday afternoon.

A 160-foot span of the bridge gave way at 3:30 p.m. yesterday, dropping hundreds of tons of half-set concrete about 60 feet. Sixty or more workers were on the span when it went down with a shattering roar.

Some of the victims were trapped in the hardening cement by jagged heaps of wood and steel. Workers formed a bucket brigade with their hard hats, splashing water to keep the concrete soft until one man was freed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today it plans to lauch a new Pioneer spacecraft into orbit around the sun next Wednesday.

Prices Wipe Out Some Income Gain

WASHINGTON (AP)— Median family income in the United States rose 5 per cent last year to $6,900, the Census Bureau reported today. A similar 5 per cent rise was recorded during 1964.

But the bureau said in its annual survey of consumer income that price increases wiped out part of the gain and real purchasing power increased only about 3 per cent during the year.

Median income is the midpoint—not the average—for the incomes of the 48.3 million households in the country. It means that an equal number of families have incomes above and below that figure.

Almost half the nation's famkilies—49 per cent—had incomes of $7,000 or more during 1965, the bureau said.

Napalm-Loaded Truck Stops Railroad Traffic

MCFARLAND (UPI)—A truck heavily loaded with napalm bombs today smashed into a tree and came to rest on the Southern Pacific tracks here, suspending rail traffic for nearly two hours.

Highway patrolmen said a station wagon skidded out of control and smashed into the side of the truck causing it to swerve into a tree.

Airline Strike Bill Nearing House Floor

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House Commerce Committe today tentatively approved leagainst five major airlines.

Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va. hoped the committee could complete action on a bill late today.

If so, he said it would be up to the House leadership and the Rules Committee whether to try to bring the measure up on the House floor tomorrow.

The panel, moving swiftly though reluctantly, approved without change provisions of a Senate-passed measure under which Congress would order the 35,400 members of the International Assn. of Machinists (IAM) to work for 30 days. President Johnson would be authorized to appoint a special board and extend the back-to-work order for up to an additional 150 days.

A motion was made to strike a clause making any wage settlement reached during the no strike period retroactive to Jan. 1, 1966, but this was rejected.

There was a brief flurry of optimism yesterday that Congress might be able to get off the political hook when the committee made a last-resort appeal for both the five struck airlines and the IAM to submit to binding arbitration.

The airlines accepted the proposal, but the machinists made it clear they would not buy it. IAM President .P L. (Roy) Siemiller said he doubted

Heavy Bayonet Use In Viet Nam

DA NANG, Viet Nam (AP)— The commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps said today the bayonet and knife have been used more in the Viet Nam war than in World War II or Korea.

Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr. told a news conference he had just visited the site of operation Colorado, 35 miles south of Da Nang, and there had been some hand - to - hand combat there last night.

He didn't elaborate.

Trouble With Tiger

DEVONPORT, England (AP) — Britain's first push-button cruiser, the Tiger, fired a shell into a rockyard yesterday by mistake. No one was hurt. The six-inch dummy shell struck a wall 30 feet away, knocking down telephone wires and scattering debris over a wide area.

British Cabinet Posts Shuffled

LONDON (UPI)—A dramatic cabinet reshuffle all but overshadowed today the government's bitter fight to push Prime Minister Harold Wilson's wage-price freeze bill into law.

Wilson last night announced a six-minister cabinet shift minutes after the House of Commons approved the controversial prices and incomes bill by a vote of 272-214.

Brown

The biggest cabinet shift was the appointment of Chief Deputy Prime Minister and Economics Minister George Brown, 51, as foreign secretary. He replaces Michael Stewart, 59, who will take over the economics ministry portfolio. The changes involved no new faces.

Stewart

Appointment of Brown as foreign secretary was interpreted as a sign Wilson was planning a concerted bid for British entry into European Common Market. Brown is the architect of Wilson's prices and incomes program.

Brown also pushed the prices and incomes legislation through the commons despite a relentless attack by the opposition Conservative party and more than 20 turncoat Laborite leftwingers who bolted the party by abstaining from votes on the bill.

Nearly Identical Grants Awarded

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The National Science Foundation has awarded nearly identical grants to Stanford university and the University of California at Berkeley to strengthen their science programs.

California received a $154,728 grant and Stanford was awarded $153,553. The UC grant was the largest in the nation this year.

The Stanford Medical Center also announced today it had received a $10,000 gift from the Norwich-Eaton Foundation of Norwich, N.Y. The money will be used to equip a laboratory for research in urology.

Speck Will Remain In Jail Infirmary

CHICAGO (UPI) — Richard Speck, the 24-year-old accused of slaughtering eight nurses on Chicago's south side, will remain in his iron bed in the Cook County jail infirmary for at least two or three more days.

Warden Jack Johnson said a lingering heart ailment has delayed Speck's transfer to an isolation cell within the jail complex.

Sniper's Blood Tests Scotch Pills As Cause

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) —A laboratory report to a grand jury today shows that neither alcohol nor barbiturates played a significant role in last week's murder rampage by Charles J. Whitman.

The Department of Public Safety report, released yesterday and being turned over to the jury today, said no trace of either substances was found in lab tests of Whitman's blood.

J. D. Chastain, head of the laboratory, said testing was limited because of lack of blood. But he said quantities tested were sufficient to show that no more than an "insignificant amount" of drugs or alcohol could have been in his system.

Whitman killed his wife and his mother and then fatally wounded 14 other persons in sniper shootings from the University of Texas tower last week. Chastain said pep pills which Whitman had with him atop the tower were probably taken in case he needed to remain awake.

Uncle Sam Quits Printing $2 Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department says the $2 bill, popular at race tracks but shunned by the general public, will no longer be printed.

Actually, officials said, movement of the bills out of government inventories has been so slow that none has been printed since mid-1965. At the current demand rate, enough $2 bills remain to meet the need until July 1967. But the officials said the movement might pick up as collectors try to snap up the remaining bills.

A recent study showed public demand for the bill ranged from very limited to absolutely none.

Peace Breaks Out In Asia: Pact Ends Indonesia-Malaysia War

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia and Malaysia signed an agreement today to end their three-year undeclared war.

Malaysian Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak, who flew into Jakarta for the ceremony, said the document was identical with one he and Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik signed June 1 in Bangkok.

The pact provides that hostilities between the two Southeast Asian countries will cease at once and diplomatic relations will be re-established.

PLEBESCITE SET

It also provides for general elections in the Malaysian Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak to reaffirm their desire to be a part of Malaysia.

Malik signed for Indonesia today, with the army strongman Gen. Suharto at his shoulder.

President Sukarno, who started Indonesia's guerrilla war in September 1963 when Malaysia was formed as a federation of former British territories, was not present.

Sukarno had objected to the peace moves and two weeks ago reiterated his charges that Malaysia was created by the British to preserve their influence in Southeast Asia and as a threat to Indonesia.

PROGRESS CITED

In brief statements at the signing, both Malik and Razak said the agreement was proof that Asians could settle Asian problems. Malik said it would open a new page of history for the Malay race, the dominant population group in both countries.

Before signing the agreement, Razak called on Sukarno and presented him with a silver tea set from the king of Malaysia. The president shook hands and the two talked privately.

The undeclared war disrupted Indonesian trade and accelerated the country's slide toward bankruptcy. Faced with enormous foreign debt, the loss of Singapore as the clearing house for her trade, and a steady loss of foreign aid, Indonesia's new leaders were anxious to get back in the good graces of prospective trading partners and end the anti-Malaysian campaign.

The confrontation had global repercussions: Britain, New Zealand and Australia sent more than 60,000 men to help defend Malaysia, a member of the British Commonwealth, and Indonesia walked out of the United Nations when Malaysia was elected to the Security Council.

Lunar Orbiter On Course For Vital Photos Project

PASADENA (UPI) — America's lunar Orbiter spacecraft sped on its photographic mission close to the moon today in an effort to help find a suitable and safe landing spot for astronauts.

The unmanned 850-pound vehicle was launched from Cape Kennedy yesterday and all reports pointed to success in the plan to send back to earth 352 closeup pictures of the moon's surface.

As is usual in such operations, a midcourse correction maneuver was necessary to bring the vehicle to its planned orbit as close as 28 miles from the moon. Specific time of the maneuver was being calculated by engineers plotting Orbiter's course.

"It looks very much like a perfect vehicle flight," said Robert H. Gray, launch operations director, two hours after the liftoff.

The 235,466-mile journey to the moon's vicinity was scheduled to take 90 hours—just six hours short of four days. It was expected the craft would go into orbit around the moon Sunday morning.

Rights Parley Urged

Tear Gas Used In Prison Wing

SOLEDAD (AP) — Officials of Soledad State Prison said yesterday guards had used tear gas to quell a small outbreak in the disciplinary wing of the prison.

Two prisoners threw food, water and waste material out of their cells for about 30 minutes before the gas was used, officials said.

A federal court judge is currently hearing accusations that prisoners are treated cruelly in this particular wing of the prison. Prisoners contend the wing is operated like a medieval dungeon.

Senate Delays Civil Rights Bill Debate

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield announced today that the Senate will begin debate on the House-passed civil rights bill Sept. 6.

The Montana Democrat also told newsmen that a southern filibuster against the measure cannot be broken without the help of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill.

"The key to it is Dirksen," Mansfield said. "Without him we can't get cloture." Dirksen has expressed opposition to the controversial open housing section of the bill which he claims is unconstitutional.

The House bill, passed Tuesday, was to be formally delivered to the Senate today.

Mansfield said Senate leaders will take charge of the bills as it is transmitted under a parliamentary procedure which will route the measure directly to the Senate calendar. A Senate version of the civil rights bill is bogged down in extensive hearings by a judiciary subcommittee.

Asked about prospects for congressional adjournment in the light of that expected civil rights battle, Mansfield said he agrees with the Oct. 15 target date set recently by Dirksen. However, Mansfield added the qualification: "with luck."

Non-Political Tour Planned By President

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—President Johnson is planning a "nonpolitical" swing through four New England states on Aug. 20, sources close to the U.S. Interior Department said last night.

The trip calls for brief stops in Providence, R.I., Pawtuckaway State Park in Nottingham, N.H., Burlington, Vt., and a site in Maine, reportedly Camp Albion, the sources added.

City Charter Committee Drops Try For Stronger Manager Role

Four members of the San Rafael charter revision committee last night abandoned any hopes of giving the city's top administrative officer all the power which the name "city manager" implies.

They took a long look at the question of whether the manager should be able to hire and fire department heads without the city council's approval, and at one point were deadlocked 2-2 on the matter.

Later, however, the vote swung to 3-1 in favor of leaving such tasks in the hands of the council. John D. La Noue switched his vote on grounds the council — to which the committee's recommendations must go — would not consent to give up this power. Gerald H. Purcell, however, held out for giving it to the manager.

The group is scheduled to put together a proposed new charter which the council, after making any changes it wishes to, may submit to the city's voters for approval.

La Noue predicted other committee recommendations would be affected by the decision on how much power to give to the manager. He suggested scrapping the term "city manager," referring instead to an administrative officer who would be on little more than equal footing with other department heads.

Nevertheless, the committee agreed that the manager's word should swing weight with the council if he felt a top city aide should be fired. They said this should enable the council to fire a department head by 3-2 vote. Vote now must be unanimous, and committee members earlier suggested it should be possible with a 4-1 vote if there was no recommendation from the manager.

Lesser employees, they said, should be hired and fired by their department heads as long as the city manager approves. The manager, however, could order a department head to hire new men or women even if he did not want them.

After some debate on how to treat cases in which the manager wanted a lesser employee fired, but his immediate superior objected, the committee agreed the manager's view should prevail.

Committee members felt the city's board of appeals—which now exists on paper but seldom meets — should be retained and strengthened so that it would have the final word on appeals of dismissals. The board's decisions now are subject to reversal by the council.

Other topics included possible abolition of present ceilings on special taxes for parks and libraries, and whether the library board should have the power to spend city money on land or buildings without council approval.

Chairman Roy M. Michaels promised to bring a tax expert to the next meeting, set for 8 p.m. Aug. 24 at city hall, to clarify his ideas about the tax ceilings.

Michaels warned that the group might have to start meeting weekly to complete its proposals in time to permit the charter vote to coincide with next April's municipal election.

Attorney E. Warren McGuire, sitting for the first time as the committee's special counsel, warned that the report would have to go to the coucil by Nov. 1 to insure this Councilmen would then have time to debate the proposed charter revisions and still meet legal deadlines for calling the election, he explained.

Last month, the committee voted tentatively to recommend abolition of the city's five-member fire commission. Michael reported that his request to set up a joint meeting with the fire commission had not brought a agreed to repeat the request in writing, with a copy to be sent to each fire commissioner.

Thomas P. Boyd was absent.

Health Department Reports Rabid Skunk

Marin County Health Department yesterday confirmed that a skunk killed last week on the Marin-Sonoma border had rabies.

The skunk bit a poodle before it was shot

Dorothy Snyker of the department declined to give the dog owner's name or address but said the property on which the skunk was found was just inside the border near Petaluma. As the poodle was too young to have received its rabies shots, Mrs. Snyker said the department was recommending it be killed.

U.S. Strafes Own Ship; Two Killed

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines pursued an estiated 6,000 North Vietnamese troops in bloodied rice paddies near Da Nang today after some 750 Leathernecks fought off encirclement by twice their number through the night.

The Marines killed at least 121 Communists while their own casualties were moderate, a spokesman said.

Off South Viet Nam's northern coast, three American planes mistakenly attacked an 82-foot U.S. Coast Guard patrol boat, killing two Coast Guardmen and injuring five men, including a British correspondent.

The attack occurred less than 36 hours after two American jets bombed and strafed a friendly Mekong Delta village from which, the American command said, the Viet Cong were firing on a U.S. spotter plane. The attack killed 24 Vietnamese and wounded 82, most of them villagers, according to the latest tallies.

Scattered firefights were reported today in the plateau area where thousands of U.S., Korean and Vietnamese troops are in action to forestall a possible late monsoon season sweep by the North Vietnamese across the highlands to the sea.

Bad flying weather limited U.S. air operations over North Viet Nam to 98 missions yesterday and kept the American fliers clear of the hotly defended Haiphong-Hanoi industrial belt.

For the second day in a row, no American aircraft were reported lost after a total of 10 planes were downed on Sunday and Monday.

The Coast Guard cutter was identified as the Point Welcome, one of many small patrol boats that prowl the coast and inland waterways seeking Communist traffic.

It was operating without lights in its patrol area at the mouth of the Cua Viet River, 35 miles north of Hue, when a patrol plane mistook it for a Communist boat, a U.S. spokesman said. The air strike was ordered.

The newsman wounded was Tim Page, 22, a freelance correspondent and photographer who had been wounded twice before in Viet Nam. His injuries were reported not serious.

The other injured were three Coast Guardmen and a Vietnamese, preliminary reports said.

The U.S. military command announced that the number of Americans killed in combat last week went down but the wounded increased. A spokesman said 71 servicemen were killed, 615 wounded and 10 missing or captured compared with 99 killed and 534 wounded the previous week, when there was no report on missing.

South Vietnamese authorities reported 130 of their troops killed, a decline of 70. Other allied forces reported no men killed but six wounded.

The number of Communist dead dropped nearly 50 per cent. A U.S. spokesman reported 649 Reds killed last week compared with 1,170 during the week of July 17-23. This raised the reported enemy toll for the year to 30,698.

Tam Valley Hearing Under Way

Hearing the suit of Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District and three Tamalpais Valley residents for a preliminary injunction which would force Mill Valley Refuse Service Inc. to resume garbage collections until Oct. 1 began today in Marin Superior Court.

District witnesses called to testify included Francis M. Small Jr., chairman of the district. He told Judge Joseph G. Wilson he received his bill for garbage services June 25 for the following months of July, August, and September.

According to his habit, he said, he intended to make the advance service payment in the middle of the second month. The bill, he said, states that service can be discontinued only if payment is not made by the 15th day of the month following the three-month period.

His service, however, was discontinued by the company during July, he said.

The suit, filed last July 28, seeks to compel the refuse company to continue service to all customers until October, when a contract with Henry's Service of Stinson Beach takes effect.

Lewis Figone, vice president of the Mill Valley company, has been quoted as saying his firm no longer feels responsible for servicing the district. He was present today with Assemblyman William T. Bagley appearing in place of his law partner, Albert Bianchi, who usually represents the refuse company. Bianchi was in another court.

Bagley opened the hearing with charges that Figone was not properly served with notice of the suit. He said a page containing portion of alleged causes of action was missing, and that the notice was not served within the required time.

"We have been dealt with in a high-handed manner, and we are not just going to lie down and be sued and be nice about it," Bagley said.

Judge Wilson last month declined to issue an emergency injunction requested by Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, who represents the district.

Today's hearing was scheduled to continue this afternoon.

Co-plaintiffs with the district are Arthur Crebassa, Martin L. Rhodes, and Tommy L. Thompson.

homeowners what steps had been taken. The board agreed that the matter could be improved.

After the meeting, the housewives threatened to picket the district if they didn't receive satisfaction. "That's how we got action this time," Mrs. Beckstrand said.

She said they had a stormy meeting with Seeger Tuesday, and threatened to picket the district offices if they weren't heard by the full board. Their complaint was the first item on yesterday's agenda.

After they had gone Seeger told the board that neighbors in the same block hadn't complained of bad water. "The water is pure," he maintained, and pointed to a district-taken sample of pure water taken from Patricia Way.

Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, Marin County Health Officer, said today the recent outbreak of stomach upsets in Marin is not attributed to water pollution, but is probably part of widespread viral gastroenteritis currently prevalent in the Bay Area.

She said no abnormal number of salmonella cases have been reported to the county health department. Last summer in Riverside, in Southern California, more than 18,000 residents became ill with diarrhea and vomiting in an epidemic of water-borne salmonella, later traced to pollution of the city's water supply.

TAX

less than anticipated. Supervisors will not set the tax rate officially until Aug. 30.

All assessments, including the unequalized utility roll, come to a total of $482,029. This is up 12.2 per cent over last year.

The total assessed valuation for the library district, excluding San Rafael, Larkspur, Mill Valley, Sausalito and San Anselmo which have their own libraries, is $278,138,470, up 13 per cent over last year.

The structural fire tax rate will be based on an assessed valuation of $60,470,860, up 12.5 per cent from last year. This covers unincorporated areas of the county not served by city or special district fire departments.

Kobseff Donation Offer Enlarged

Nick Kobseff, postmaster and unofficial "mayor" of Nicasio, has enlarged his recent offer to donate the historic Nicasio town square to the county as a park. He now says he might consider donating all his land, including the square and property to the north and east, if he can retain his Rancho Nicasio restaurant on a concession basis.

Kobseff offered to give the county the square last month. His expanded proposal was announced to the Marin County Park and Recreation Commission yesterday by park and recreation director Pierre W. Joske.

Commission members were enthusiastic about the prospect and asked Joske to continue talking to Kobseff.

The restaurant owner has said that he will only donate the square if the county will agree to improve the square's landscaping facilities, and to retain the ball field.

Record Asked On Suicide Of Cell Inmate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge ordered Soledad prison authorities today to supply the court all records on the suicide of a young convict in a strip cell in June, 1965.

Judge George B. Harris acted after receiving a telegram from Frank Millette of Barstow, father of the dead prisoner, Phillip S. Millette.

Phillip's record was not available when a federal court hearing reopened into charges that Soledad prisoners were punished by being placed in strip cells.

DARK, FILTHY

Convicts have testified the cells, stripped of all furnishings, were dark, filthy, and unventilated.

Judge Harris ordered the check into Millette's suicide after a guard, John L. Nash, testified he refuses towels to strip cell prisoners if there is any danger of suicide.

The cells are without beds and ordinary bathroom fixtures.

Nash said conditions have changed and prisoners normally now are given towels, soap, toothbrushes, plastic wash basins and pitchers of water.

Formerly prisoners received water in a plastic cup.

DAMAGE SUIT

Robert Jordan, 27, confined in Soledad on a Los Angeles assault charge for eight years, has filed a habeas corpus action in federal court. He also has filed a $100,000 civil rights damage suit charging that he was subjected to cruel and inhuman punishment. He said he was placed in a strip cell without clothing or mattress for several days in July, 1965.

Nash denied statements by Jordan and testimony of six other convicts taken Tuesday at Soledad by U.S. District Judge George B. Harris.

The convicts testified they were limited to a single cup of water night and morning. They said the cells' sunken toilets were flushed only once a day.

Nash said that on his shift the toilets were flushed whenever it was asked. He said he allowed inmates as much water as they wished.

Nash testified the policy of allowing strip cell inmates wash basins and pitchers of water created some problems. He said the water was sometimes thrown on guards and other prisoners.

He said the basins were battered against the cell bars to create disturbances.

STRIKE

his members would agree to the idea.

After that, the committee tentatively approved the first two sections of the Senate-passed back-to-work measure, declaring that the strike "threatens substantially to interrupt interstate commerce" and that "essential transportation services must be maintained."

The rest of the bill was up for approval today. It would authorize President Johnson to extend Congress' initial no-strike order for an additional 150 days while new mediation efforts are begun.

Staggers, also expected a proposal to provide for seizure of the five struck airlines for the duration of the no-strike period, a move sure to dampen the enthusiasm the airlines so far have shown for the bill.

TRIAL

trustees for a painters union local's welfare fund in Sacramento. Wilson had criticized the fund's handling.

Yesterday, Rock's attorney, Marvin Lewis, and George T. Davis, representing Black, asked for a mistrial ruling, saying Judge Norman Elkington erred in jury selection, because the names of all prospective jurors had not been put in the court clerk's hopper when the trial began Monday.

Judge Elkington had ordered only 38 prospective jurors to report and summoned others as the need arose.

Earlier yesterday Judge Elkington asked the squad of defense lawyers to speed up their examination of the jurors.

"At the rate we are going and the length of questions you will use at least three weeks in selecting the jury," he observed.

By the end of the day 18 jurors had been excused for personal reasons, five of them because they said they could not conscientiously impose a death sentence.

OBITUARIES

Elpidio Lazzari, 73, Dies

Word has been received in Novato of the death last month in Italy of Elpidio Lazzari, 73, formerly of 1416 Park Avenue, Novato.

He died of a heart attack while visiting his homeland. Funeral and burial were in his native province of Pesaro.

Lazzari came to the United States in 1912 and lived in Massachusetts for more than 40 years before moving to Novato in 1954. He served in World War I. He was 73 years old.

He was a member of the San Francisco Bricklayers, Stone Masons and Mosaic Terrazzo Workers Local 7.

He is survived by a son, M. E. (Terry) Lazzari of Novato; two daughters, Mrs. Norma L. Racicot of Shrewsbury, Mass., and Mrs. Virginia A. Paladini of Marysville; a brother, Arthur Lazzari of Fano, Italy, and 11 grandchildren.

REPORT

Court Judge Harold Holden of Santa Clara, acting on the recommendation of his county's probation department, suspended imposition of a felony sentence, imposed probation for five years and made it a condition of probation that Weiss serve a year in that county's jail.

In June of 1965, however, the case was transferred to Marin, with concurrence of Marin and Santa Clara county authorities, since this was where Weiss lived.

Last August, Weiss' attorney, W. O. Weissich, asked Marin County Superior Court to modify the terms of probation, because Weiss' health had "seriously deteriorated to the point he is in serious danger."

A supporting letter from Weiss' physician, Charles Hoffman, said Weiss was suffering from a peptic ulcer and that "his incarceration puts him in imminent danger of further hemorrhage." This could prove fatal, Hoffman wrote.

Bales followed the recommendation of Santa Clara County Deputy Dist. Atty. Richard N. Salle and told Judge Keating he had no advice as to sentencing.

Soetaert, likewise, followed the example of his counterpart in Santa Clara County and recommended probation.

Judge Keating, in the absence of recommendations from Santa Clara County and in view of Weiss' health, reduced the probationary period from five to three years and suspended the eleven months still to be served by Weiss on condition of good behavior.

Salle told the Independent-Journal today that his office had made no recommendation as to sentencing, when the matter was before the court in Santa Clara, because he made a deal with Weiss to do so in return for a guilty plea.

Salle said, "I told Weiss I wouldn't throw the book at him, but that I wouldn't do anything to get him a light sentence, either. I said I'd remain neutral and leave it up to the judge, if he pleaded guilty."

Told of this, Bales said today it was the first he had heard of a deal being made in Santa Clara County.

The grand jury report noted the injection of the case a year later into the political campaign and said, "it became a theme for an aspirant for the district attorney's office."

Speaking of publicity given Bjorkland's charges, the report declared, "this issue had its effect on the public image of Mr. Bruce Bales . . . all of which was without justification because he fulfilled completely the duties of the district attorney's office in the handling of this case."

The report touched briefly on Judge Keating's modification of the sentence and said, "The judiciary and county officials . . . have completely discharged their responsibilities in accordance with the requirements of their respective offices."

Bench Warrant

Henry Walraven, 40, of 21 El Camino Drive, Corte Madera, was booked in county jail last night on a bench warrant issued for Sacramento police and charging violation of probation and non-support of children. Corte Madera police made the arrest. Walraven was released on $1,100 bail.

MRS. CRABTREE

Requiem Mass for Lena Crabtree of Petaluma, sister of Mrs. Blanche Abrams of San Rafael, will be tomorrow at 9 a.m. at St. Vincent's Catholic Church, Petaluma.

Mrs. Crabtree, 85, died Monday in a Petaluma rest home after a long illness. She was born in Humboldt County, and worked all her life as a teacher until she retired in 1942. She once served as superintendent of Modoc County schools.

Mrs. Abrams is her sole survivor.

Rosary will be tonight at 8 p.m. at the Parent Mortuary in Petaluma. Burial will be private.

ANTONIO MACHADO

Antonio F. Machado, a Sausalito resident for 43 years, died yesterday in a Santa Rosa hospital following six months of illness.

Machado, lived in Petaluma with his wife, Maria, since his retirement in 1963.

A native of the Azores Islands of Portugal, Machado came to the United States when he was 25, residing in Sausalito. He worked as a dairyman in Marin County from 1948, later becoming a cement finisher for a Marin contractor.

Machado is survived by his wife, and eight children: Tony Machado and Mrs. Mary Brazil of San Anselmo, Mrs. Hilda Carleton of Mill Valley, Mrs. Ida Mendoza of Stinson Beach, Maria, Linda, Antonio, and Eva Machado all of Petaluma.

A requiem mass will be offered Saturday at 9:30 a.m. in Petaluma at St. Vincent dePaul Church. Interment will be at Calvary Cemetery, Petaluma.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Committee For Better Schools Attempts To Organize In Marin

An organization calling itself California Committees for Better Schools is attempting to organize in San Rafael.

Organizers have held two meetings for invited guests, and plan a public organizational meeting before the start of the school year.

The California Committees for Better Schools is an outgrowth of the Committee for Better Schools organized in Castro Valley early this year during a campaign for recall of school board chairman Edward F. Newman. The recall was successful, Newman being ousted by a vote of 5,136 to 4,038. As to the significance in its success of the Committee for Better Schools, opinions in Castro Valley vary.

THE CASTRO VALLEY campaign received a surprising amount of publicity for a local recall campaign in a community of 49,000. The man recalled, Newman, had served on the Castro Valley Elementary School District Board and was elected to the board of the new unified district when it was formed from a part of the Hayward High School District in 1964. One year later, the recall against him was launched. He was replaced by Dr. Mary Ellen Castle, a dentist (and incidentally a registered Democrat) who had previously served on the old Hayward High School District board.

The California Teachers Assn. and National Education Assn. charged that "a well-organized, well-financed special interest group which opposes discussion of controversial issues in the classroom is attempting to take over control of the Castro Valley Unified School District."

SIMILAR CHARGES were voiced by Thomas W. Braden, president of the California State Board of Education. He claimed "lunatic paranoids" had frightened citizens into opposing Newman.

Joining in the defense of Newman and attack on the recall forces were the American Federation of Teachers and representatives of the Congress of Racial Equality, Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, and International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

A VISIT TO Castro Valley, however, disclosed that the hysteria surrounding the recall was not shared in great measure by local citizens. Non-involved citizens whom I interviewed felt the board of the new unified district had got off on the wrong foot with a tax increase demand, a proposal to turn one elementary school into a district headquarters while buying portable classrooms for the displaced pupils, and excessive permissiveness in the district's two high schools among other things. The persons I interviewed felt Newman would have been recalled without the Committee for Better Schools entering the picture.

What made the Committee for Better Schools different was that it did not go out of existence after the election, as customarily happens with such organizations.

CHAIRMAN OF THE committee—and of the temporary organization seeking to form affiliated committees in 20 other Bay Area school districts, including San Rafael—is Louis W. Collier, who lives in Castro Valley and operates a real estate business in neighboring San Lorenzo. Vice chairman is Michael Crane, a teacher in one of the Castro Valley district's two high schools who is a former Oakland policeman.

Collier makes it perfectly clear that what he hopes to establish is an organization which can lobby for parents and taxpayers against the California Teachers Assn. and American Federation of Teachers. "Nobody in Sacramento represents the parents," he says.

THE VIEW OF THE CCBS organizers is expressed in these words in an "organizational guide" distributed to those interested in starting affiliated committees in other districts:

"Always keep in mind that the school board members are your elected representatives, chosen to carry out the wishes of voters, taxpayers and parents. The superintendent and all of his subordinates are public servants, paid with your tax money to perform as you direct them through the elected school board."

Dr. Castle, who replaced the recalled Newman on the Castro Valley board, agrees, CTA and NEA, she says, "have fought the parents all the way down the line." She is helping to organize affiliated committees.

Incidentally, although some with whom I talked in Castro Valley were less than enthusiastic about Collier and Crane, I did not encounter any who did not respect Dr. Castle. This however, did not keep her from being labeled "Bircher and "extremist" by those who fought the recall.

COLLIER HAS FEW illusions about the tough job of organizing parents along the lines on which teachers are organized. "The NEA says they have over a million dollars to fight organizations such as ours as they are popping up over the country," he reported.

If the Committees for Better Schools succeed in organizing in San Rafael, a local parents' organization formed by Mrs. Walter H. Tait may be expected to disband, amalgamating with the affiliated group. A parent group organized by Mrs. John M. Douglas is not, however, expected to join the merger.

Auto Theft Charge Hearing Set Monday

Merton W. Spaulding, 21, yesterday was scheduled for a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court for 9:30 a.m. Monday on a felony charge of auto theft.

Marin Scenic Route Study Has Three Alternate Plans

How should tourists travel through Marin if they want the best look at the county's beauty?

That is a question which a committee headed by Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon is trying to solve.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown named committees in counties throughout the state to make such a study for a National Redwood Scenic Road and Trail System.

So far, the Marin committee has come up with three alternate plans, but has not chosen the plan it wants. All three were presented at a meeting of Redwood Empire Assn. directors in Crescent City last month.

Walter Horchler of the county planning staff said one plan would be to follow the present State Highway 1, a route already part of the state's scenic highway system.

A second choice would be to follow existing roads through the county's central, rural area, taking in the Chileno, Hicks, Nicasio and San Geronimo valleys.

A third plan would call for a new road along Bolinas Ridge, heading north to Nicasio and swinging into a westward or an eastward loop through Hicks Valley.

Contrary to earlier scenic route studies by the county parks and recreation commission, the National Redwood study is intended for through traffic. The earlier plans would merely provide scenic loops within individual counties.

The federal government has put up $10,000 to finance the current studies. Additional funds may later become available, Horchler said.

Four Bolinas Lagoon Hearings Are Slated

The Bolinas Harbor Commission has set four public hearings on the master plan for Bolinas Lagoon.

Criteria for development of the plan will be considered Aug. 20 at 3 p.m. in the Stinson Beach Community Center and Aug. 25 at 8 p.m. in Bolinas Community Center.

The plan will be presented Sept. 17 at 3 p.m. in the Bolinas center, and a final review of the plan is set for Sept. 22 at 8 p.m. at the Stinson Beach Center.

On top of all this, your lot at The Sea Ranch is a very fine investment.

It should be, when you consider what comes with it.

Miles of open shoreline on the unspoiled Sonoma coast—sandy beaches, wave-washed cliffs and hidden coves.

Hundreds of acres of common lands that range from meadows by the sea to upland forests of redwood, fir and pine.

Facilities for year-around outdoor recreation.

Excellent weather—normally warm and sunny, even on days when the Bay Area is bathed in fog.

A location that makes weekending easy, only 2½ hours from San Francisco.

The breathtaking beauty of The Sea Ranch is protected by master planning that has created nationwide editorial comment. Its developers, Oceanic Properties, Inc. (a subsidiary of Castle & Cooke, Hawaii), invested millions of dollars to assure each buyer the utmost value. Yet lot prices begin as low as $4,950. They include paved roads, underground utilities, and recreation centers. Attractive terms are being offered.

If you're looking for a second-home property anywhere in Northern California, send the coupon today. When you see what The Sea Ranch has to offer, you'll agree that it's a very fine investment indeed.

Then all you'll have to do is learn to relax and enjoy it!

Drive up for a visit soon! Take any of the main Sonoma County routes from U.S. 101 to the coast, then drive north on Hwy 1. You'll find the entry marker and restaurant about 17 miles north of Ft. Ross.

NEW WAY TO CALL

Fifteen-year-old Chris Fabing of Cincinnati found a new way to make a phone call yesterday — seated in a wire grocery cart. Chris probably would have wished that he had brought a cushion if the call had been a long one. Newspaper photographer Gerry Wolter said, "I couldn't believe my eyes. I just had to shoot it." Kuchel Protests Redwood Cutting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) accused the Miller-Rellim Redwood Co. yesterday of "cutting into the heart of our proposed Redwood National Park."

In a Senate speech, he appealed to the company "to stop slashing down these ancient trees."

Kuchel said he has aerial photographs of the Del Norte County coastal area showing recent cuttings of virgin redwoods, south of Jedediah Smith Redwoods State Park and with the proposed national park area outlined in legislation pending in Congress.

He said he had written to the firm asking them to suspend cutting within the proposed park boundaries until Congress had time to act on the park legislation. He said he has received no answer he considers responsible.

Kuchel also charged that the company "has slammed the gates of its property shut in order to keep the Congress from knowing how much and how fast it is cutting" and has denied access to representatives of the National Park Service.

"I am compelled to conclude that the Miller-Rellim Redwood Co. is pursuing a program designed to destroy the park value of this portion of its timber lands by cutting out its heart," he said.

Three Sent To Prison For Fraud

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two men were sent to prison and a third placed on probation yesterday for grand theft — defrauding seven banks of $200,000.

Julian Katzman, 31, described as the mastermind, was sentenced to 18 months in the county jail and given three years probation providing he repay $72,000.

Charles Allen, 38, was given one year in jail and told to repay $10,000.

Nicholas M. Sahati, 67, a former Nevada gambling figure, was placed on probation for three years. He must repay $51,400, of which $35,000 has already been returned to banks.

The three were convicted in Superior Court of grand theft.

The prosecution said they "somehow" obtained the stock certificates of a defunct Nevada corporation and used the certificates to obtain loans.

Judge Harold J. Neubarth was the trial judge and imposed the sentences.

Five Days In Jail

Douglas Mills Chapman, 50, of 339 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was fined $276, given five days in county jail, and placed on a year's probation in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard July 17.

Braden Defends Board On Inattention Plaint

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Thomas W. Braden, president of the state Board of Education, has defended board members from a charge they failed to pay attention during school unification hearings.

The accusation was leveled yesterday by Douglas B. Gardner of Los Angeles before the Senate Interim Committee on Education. He said many members snooze and read newspapers during the hearings.

Gardner, president of a group called Californians for Quality Unified Education, suggested the board's decision-making power over school unification be taken away because of the members' lack of attention to the subject.

In a statement later, Braden said:

"I would not deny there may have been instances when board members have looked bored in the middle of an argument they are hearing for the 40th time and which they can do absolutely nothing to resolve."

But he added that "when tiny elementary school districts, nearly always representing a pocket of wealth and occasionally a pocket of bigotry, argue interminably they should be permitted to wall themselves off from the rest of California... the members of the board may indeed grow weary."

The interim committee concluded hearings on the state law granting bonuses to school districts which attempt to unify —and ultimately allowing the state to require unification.

Another major witness yesterday was Dr. Ronald W. Cox, chief of the Division of Public School Administration in the Department of Education.

He said the requiring of unification elections within two-year periods was a "key part" of state policy encouraging school districts to unify.

Star, Network Differ On Firing

NEW YORK (UPI) —Jack Lescoulie insisted today he was "fired" from NBC's "Today" show, although the network said it was merely a case of a contract running out.

Lescoulie, whose place in the "Today" team was worth about $150,000 a year to him, according to TV sources, will appear in his last program Sept. 2.

Rumors about his position with the show have been circulating since he took a vacation in July after a reported argument with a member of the production staff while filming in the Virgin Islands.

Producer Al Morgan denied, however, that this had anything to do with NBC's decision not to negotiate a new contract.

No Quorum

Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission failed to meet last night because it lacked a quorum. James Lienkaemper, Dr. Ted F. Pitt and Peter Krug were all out of town on vacation, according to Robert C. Bundy, director of Parks and Recreation.

State Schools Due Labor Textbooks

SAN DIEGO (AP)—California Federation of Labor delegates approached business sessions and the wind-up of their convention today, after hearing a succession of talks by leaders of the state and federal governments.

All speakers yesterday were Democrats, either elective or appointive, except State Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Max Rafferty, who brought applause with announcement that textbooks on labor will appear in California schools next year. He said they will be the first of their kind in any school in the nation.

Rafferty asked the labor delegates to support candidates for office who will "get the state back into the business of financing its schools." He deplored what he called a trend toward saddling this expense on property taxpayers over the past 15 years.

On racial discrimination, Rafferty opposed compulsory busing of racial minority pupils to other schools, which he said establishes an artificial ratio of Negroes to caucasians."

"Let's lick this racial discrimination," he said, "but let's not do it by adopting proposals which are fundamentally unsound from an educational standpoint."

Preceding Rafferty on the program were Undersecretary of Labor John Henning, who criticized Republican policies and praised the Democratic - controlled state administration. He and Attorney General Tom Lynch, implored the 2,000 delegates of the AFL-CIO group to support strongly the Democratic candidates they endorse.

Nurses Walk Out, Hospital Empty

The nurses walked out Aug. 1 in a wage dispute. The 20 patients were transferred to Providence Hospital or taken home.

The hospital trustees asserted yesterday in an advertisement in the Kellogg Evening News that the nurses were taking orders from outside.

Mrs. Holli Targett, a spokesman for the nurses, retorted, "nobody is telling us what to do."

The Nurses are asking for a starting salary of $425 a month. The old scale provided $340. The board offered $400.

State College Teachers Ask More Voice

LOS ANGELES (AP)— State college faculty groups and representatives are asking for a greater voice in policy making, the right of collective bargaining and a pay increase.

The requests were made yesterday at a hearing called by the trustees of the State College System. Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke added during the hearing that there have been many dramatic examples of progress in faculty benefits.

However, faculty pay continues to be 2.5 to 50 per cent lower in the state college system than on university campuses, said a spokesman for the Assn. of State College Professors, which represents 3,000 of the 18-college system's 8,000 teachers.

He said full professors at universities earn $14,200 to $2,800 annually to college professors $14,443 to $16,212.

Four other faculty group representatives joined the association in urging a wider role for the faculty in policy making.

Mustang Stolen

Richard M. Knoles of 1507½ Sir Frances Drake Boulevard told police yesterday that someone stole his black 1965 Ford Mustang from the garage Tuesday night. The ignition was not locked, he said.

Highway Patrol Group Unhappy With Raises

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A spokesman for the Association of California Highway Patrolmen says his group would seek a 5 per cent pay increase beyond a 4 per cent boost recommended by the State Personnel Board.

Dan Creedon, general counsel, told a news conference yesterday that association members had been shocked by the personnel board's recommendation.

He said this would amount to as little as 72 cents more in monthly take home pay for some officers. The present CHP pay scale starts at $614 a month and reaches $746 after five years.

Some patrolmen are so unhappy with current pay scales that they are considering resigning, Creedon said. "There has been some talk of resignations, but not mass resignations."

Bradford Crittenden, California Highway Patrol commissioner, told association board members he sympathizes with the demand for pay raises, but warned that any work stoppage or slowdown would "mean that the man who engaged in it would be fired right out."

Youth Reports Being Attacked

A 16-year-old San Anselmo youth, Dennis Ray Haulk, told sheriff's officers he was jumped by four other youths, beaten and then searched for money.

The victim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Welch, 37 Durham Road, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut upper lip.

He told deputies he had visited a friend's home Monday and was walking in the 400 block of San Francisco Boulevard, near San Anselmo, when the quartet drove up, got out and attacked him. He said they discovered he had no money, then left.

Haulk said all four assailants were of swarthy complexion, and about 19 years old.

The game of polo originated in Iran.

Watts Fete Marks Dates Of The Riots

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Today marks the first anniversary of the beginning of six - days of rioting in the South Los Angeles Negro community which left 34 dead, 1,000 injured and $45 million in property damage.

The violence, which erupted in the Watts district, brought fire, looting, machine guns, and cries of "burn, baby, burn."

A Watts Summer Festival is being staged on the anniversary to demonstrate, in the words of its sponsors, that something positive is being done.

Sargent Shriver, chief of the federal anti-poverty program, is scheduled to be marshal of the festival's parade Sunday.

Other events include a ballet, two plays, jazz concerts, athletic competition, variety shows, dancing, and sidewalk showings of locally produced painting and sculpture.

As a backdrop, gutted buildings and gaping lots cleared of rubble stand as reminders of the riot.

Since last year, the mostly Negro area has become the focal point of numerous federal, state and self-help projects.

MODISH PROTEST

FDR Aide Says Romance Nearly Ended Marriage

NEW YORK (AP) — A former White House aide says a long, secret romance between Franklin D. Roosevelt and his wife's social secretary nearly broke up his marriage early in his political career.

Jonathan Daniels, now editor of the News & Observer in Raleigh, N.C., makes this disclosure in a book "The Time Between the Wars" to be published on Aug. 19.

Daniels, who was an administrative assistant and press secretary for Roosevelt, identifies the woman as Lucy Mercer, "a member of the famous Carroll family of Maryland." She later became the wife of wealthy New Yorker Winthrop Rutherfurd. She died in 1948.

The author says that although the relationship supposedly ended in 1918, Roosevelt never completely severed the ties and that Mrs. Rutherfurd was with him at White Springs, Ga., on the day he died 21 years ago.

Daniels says Eleanor Roosevelt "was bitter and jealous of Lucy during all the years until the last when at Franklin's death in 1945 she found that Lucy, on one of her several trips to Warm Springs, had been with her husband when he died."

Newspaper Boys Stop Fire's Spread

A pair of newspaper boys on their early morning route were credited with halting a Corte Madera car fire before it could do even greater damage today.

Police officer Charles S. Brobeck said Garland R. Inglish, 16, of 2b Rice Lane, Mill Valley, and Donald A. Johnson, 14, of 22 Privateer Drive, Corte Madera, saw smoke coming from the rear seat of Carol Vander Ende's auto at 940 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, at 4:59 a.m.

The boys poured water on the seat and called police. Firemen, who finished the job, said the fire was caused by a smouldering cigarette. Damage was set at $200.

According to United Nations estimates, no fewer than 150 million persons urgently need re-housing in the world's developing areas.

Painter Union Official Death Threat Probed

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — An asserted death threat to a painters union official attending the state AFL-CIO convention here was under police investigation today.

Leslie K. Moore of the Ship Painters Union Local 1176, Oakland, told officers an anonymous telephone caller warned him that slain San Francisco Painters Union official Dow Wilson "will see you tomorrow."

Moore said he changed his hotel after receipt of the warning Monday.

Four men accused in connection with killing Wilson last April are on trial in San Francisco.

North Bay Artists (Novato) has Virginia Helton as president and Joan Wiker as vice president.

Mercy Dash Truck Theft Case Bared

Sheriff's officers today reported a case in which a 21-year-old Lagunitas man reported stealing a truck to get an injured companion to a hospital, then notified officers of the incident.

They said Gary Lee Bly told them he and the friend, Craig William Wagner, Forest Knolls, left a Woodacre party about 1 a.m. yesterday and were driving on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard when Bly had to slam on his brakes to avoid a collision with a speeding car.

The sudden stop caused Wagner, riding with Bly, to strike the vehicle's dashboard, injuring his right shoulder.

Bly said he couldn't restart his engine, and couldn't rouse neighbors to give Wagner, an amputee, a ride. Instead, he said, he found the truck, owned by Kunst Painting Contractors, San Rafael, parked at a home on Bolinas Road.

He took the vehicle, drove Wagner to Marin General Hospital for treatment, then notified authorities who recovered the vehicle and returned it undamaged to the owners, officers said.

No arrest was made but deputies said a report was being turned over to the district attorney's office because of the circumstances.

Tight Control On Exhaust Fumes Faces Automakers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Automakers were faced today with tighter control of nitrogen oxides puffing from their product's exhaust pipes into the California air.

The oxides must be limited to 350 parts per million of exhaust, the Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board ruled yesterday — amid speculation the measure may work a hardship on producers of small cars, mostly foreign.

Small engines, observers say, emit a proportionately larger amount of the oxides compared with larger engines. Federal legislation takes this into account, but the state ruling does not.

One engineer told the board the public "would be up in arms" over the ruling.

With the board's action, car manufacturers must submit plans to limit the nitrogen emissions, and the board must approve the 1967 exhaust control systems of Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

Antique Theft

Theft of a large antique railroad light was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Henry Fostine, 341 Miller Avenue. The lamp was stolen from his garden sometime between Sunday and Monday, he said.

the truth of the matter is...

Unrealistic Park proposals would destroy the economy of the Redwood Region

The forest products industry contributes over 70% of the economy of Humboldt county and 90% of Del Norte county. Irresponsible and greedy park proposals would slash millions of dollars off California's tax rolls; would wipe out $13,000,000 a year in payrolls; and would shut off the millions of investment dollars going into forest product industry expansion programs now underway.

Gigantic acreages of additional parklands are not the answer

Some 116,000 acres of government-owned redwood parklands already stretch throughout the redwood region, and they are insufficiently used. Attendance at these redwood parks has been declining. Less than two percent of their vast acres has been developed for picnic and camp sites. Most of this undeveloped parkland is inaccessible.

California Redwoods are not in danger of extinction!

All the old, park-type redwoods are protected in the long-established state and other parks and national and state forests throughout the region and in the 6,000 acres of outstanding groves being held by private owners until they can be acquired as parklands (some of these owners have been paying taxes for more than 50 years on the groves they are holding and protecting). Healthy, young commercial forest of redwoods guarantee redwoods forever. What the state really needs are more recreation areas, not more redwood "museums" that do not serve people.

Get the Facts— See for Yourself

Drive through the redwood region. See for yourself the more than 122,000 acres of park-type redwoods now being preserved, both in state parks and private lands. Visit a redwood demonstration forest. Enjoy the 365,000 acres of taxpaying, privately-owned recreation lands open to all the public for all types of outdoor activity, such as hunting, fishing, hiking and picnicking.

Narcotics Ring Sentences Set

NEW YORK (UPI) —Leonard Aiken, 55, convicted as the kingpin of the country's largest narcotics ring, was sentenced in federal court yesterday to 25 years in jail and fined $20,000.

Bail for Aiken, whom the government said ran the $8 million a year narcotics operation in Harlem was set at $150,000 pending an appeal.

Leroy Davis, 39, described as Aiken's top lieutenant, was sentenced to 15 years and fined $20,000. His bail was set at $75,000 pending appeal. Three other men, described as pushers, were Webster Bivins, 38 (12-year term and $15,000 fine), Charles Cole, 43 (10 years and $10,000) and Clifford Rogers, 31, (6 years and $5,000). They were released on bail pending appeal.

Reagan Says Brown Debate May Be Off

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Ronald Reagan, Republican gubernatorial candidate, said yesterday that he may not debate Gov. Edmund G. Brown because they differ on the techniques to be used in the proposed debate.

He said he wants a face-to-face confrontation such as George Murphy and Pierre Salinger used to debate in 1964. Brown favors questions from newsmen.

Reagan said his objection to Brown's plan is that newsmen would determine the questions to be asked.

"Issues such as extremism in the John Birch Society, which are phony, could be raised by newsmen," Reagan said.

"High taxes, crime, farm labor and 'appointment of cronies' are the legitimate issues of the campaign," he said.

Negotiations for the proposed debate are "in limbo," Reagan said.

Peking Radio Says Mao Seen In Public

TOKYO (AP)—Peking Radio said today Mao Tze-tung made a personal appearance in the Red Chinese capital Wednesday night and indicated that he was the principal author of the current nationwide purge.

Mao, 72, had been absent from Peking since last fall, amid much speculation about his health and present position as leader of the Chinese Communist party.

Appointment

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today appointed George Soloff, 45, of Sacramento as chief of the Collection Agency Licensing Bureau to succeed Harvey McAchren of Bellflower, who resigned.

Oil Troubles Waters Off Long Beach

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Whoever said pouring oil on troubled waters helps calm things is all wet.

Oily waters hereabouts are making people, beaches and boats black — not soothing water lovers at all.

"It's like tiny globes of tar, all over everything," said lifeguard Mark Monfort at Bolsa Chica Beach State Park.

"There's a lot on the beach making little kids greasy and there's more out in the water getting the surfers. It seems to make their boards slippery and it sticks to swimmers," he said.

The muck — thick, frothy crude oil — has spread across 20 square miles of the blue Pacific along the coast since Sunday, officials said.

Where does it come from?

A spokesman for oil companies operating offshore and on nearby Terminal Island said about 750,000 gallons of dark brown crude oil has seeped into the water.

Coast Guard officials said it's possible that water pumped underground to maintain pressure in oil fields has pushed crude oil up through a fissure.

Great Books Groups To Start Discussions

Marin County's Great Books grops will begin their sixteenth year of discussions this September by adding a new group in San Anselmo.

Heads of the discussion groups are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, Mill Valley, William H. Baker, San Rafael, Leon Ginsberg, and Jack B. Johnstad, San Anselmo, Rex Fink, Belvedere, and Earl Gates of Sausalito, who conducts a group at San Quentin prison for inmates.

Sea Haven Annexation Debated In Inverness

Directors of the Inverness Public Utilities District last night talked informally about the possibility of annexing the Sea Haven area on the north side of the district's present boundary.

Director William Thomson said there must be more interest from residents of Sea Haven before he would consider the proposal. He also said he would insist on a separate tax structure to insure that the annexed portion bears a share of the cost of facilities already established by the district.

Director Ruth Cantwell said that a fire in Sea Haven could threaten Inverness property. She thought annexation a logical eventuality.

Thomson said that Dr. Arthur Gordon has been the only Sea Haven Resident so far who has voiced any interest to him in annexation. He said there would probably be more interest now that the structural fire tax has been raised for owners outside districts.

The Sea Haven discussion was in response to questions raised by Independent-Journal reporter Richard Lyttle, a resident of Inverness.

Directors last night asked Fire Chief Richard V. Graveson to see if more volunteers can be found for the department. The staff now totals nine, and the directors want to maintain a staff of 16.

Would Like To Be 'Peace President'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today that it has been his greatest desire to "be a president of peace."

But he added that "so long as aggression continues in South Viet Nam, he will turn it back."

The President spoke at a White House ceremony in which he received an award from the 8th Armored Division Assn. tion, a group of World War II veterans, as "the American who has contributed most toward the cause of peace" this year.

Government Employees Have Rail Fare Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employes of U.S. government civilian agencies traveling on official business can ride for 10 per cent less than regular fares on 16 western railroads.

The Long, Hot Summer Continues

Race Flareups Hurt Four; Rights Bill Under Attack

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Negro man was shot, and fire bombs and other missiles were thrown at store windows and passing cars as violence broke out for the second straight night in a racially mixed neighborhood on the East Side of Detroit.

There also was violence in New York's Brooklyn and in Grenada, Miss.

NEW RIGHTS BILL

The battle lines were being drawn in Washington over the new civil rights bill which has passed the House and now goes to the Senate.

Tyrone Powers, 26, a Negro, was wounded in the shoulder, he said, when he was shot from a passing car in Detroit. He said three white men were in the car.

Riot-trained police, helmeted and carrying shotguns and rifles with fixed bayonets, kept most of the troublemakers within a five-block area.

They arrested 32 Negroes and seven whites — five boys and two girls — who police said were found with homemade fire bombs in their car.

DRIVER HURT

A white motorist was injured when a brick smashed through a window of his car. The plate glass fronts of several stores were smashed.

New York police said a shooting in a mostly white section of Brooklyn came after a crowd of about 40 whites chased three Negroes into an apartment house where one of them had recently moved. The crowd, most in their teens or early 20s, stood in front of the building, officers said, shouting, "Come out, nigger, or we'll burn you out!" until the three Negroes emerged.

One of the three was carrying a rifle which he fired into the crowd, police said, wounding Gerald Vabnik, 22, and Peter Guardino, 21. Both were in fair condition at a hospital.

Police reinforcements quickly dispersed the crowd after the shooting. They arrested Theodore Watson, 20, and charged him with felonious assault in the shooting.

DIXIE VIOLENCE

It was the third straight night of violence in Grenada as highway patrolmen assisted by 75 state game and fish wardens forced hundreds of whites away from the city square where some 200 Negroes were holding a civil rights rally.

Many of the whites had come armed last night with slingshots which they used to hurl small bits of metal or firecrackers at the Negroes. A highway patrolman with a bullhorn warned the crowd against such action, and then the troopers, carbines at the ready, swept the whites off the square.

Civil rights attorneys have moved to have federal contempt of court citations served on city, county and state officials who are under an injunction to protect any legal civil rights demonstration in Grenada.

RAINY MARCH

In Chicago, an estimated 200 civil rights marchers walked in the rain into the downtown area to picket the Chicago Real Estate Board office. Hardly anyone paid any attention to the demonstrators who arrived after the office had closed. They sang a few songs, then dispersed.

The demonstrators, who have been complaining about alleged housing discrimination for three weeks, acted after a series of decision changes on which section of Chicago would be their next target.

In Washington, the House-passed civil rights bill came under attack as administration leaders mapped plans for smoothing its path in the Senate.

TWO ATTACKS

The attack came from spokesmen for the Congress of Racial Equality and the National Assn. for the advancement of Colored People. They hit at the House-weakened open housing provision and the amendment making it a crime to cross state lines to incite a riot.

Another section of the bill, allowing the federal government to step in to assure fair selection of juries, had been under attack by the American Bar Assn.'s House of Delegates. However, after a personal plea by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach — who flew to the meeting in Montreal — the proposed condemnation was voted down overwhelmingly.

Hamilton To Take Part In Air Force Exercise

There will be increased air activity, and perhaps some sonic booms, over Marin next week as Hamilton Air Force Base fighters take part in an exercise Monday through Friday to test western North American air defenses.

Fighters from the 84th fighter interceptor squadron at Hamilton will try to repulse an imaginary invading force from the strategic air command.

Sonic booms may be heard both during the day and night as the exercise come near and over the coast.

As the bombers approach the region's boundaries, detection will be made by EC-121 super constellation Warning Stars, the flying radar stations which operate several hundred miles off the coast.

Air force ground radar stations will then pick up the track. Word of the "attack" will be flashed to three division direction centers. Air defense weapons will be called into action at that point.

Jaycee Breakfast

Mill Valley Jaycees will hold an orientation breakfast for prospective members Saturday at 8:30 a.m. at the Community and Youth Center. Mike Walker, vice president, urged young men between the ages of 21 and 36 to attend.

Youth Narcotics Offenses Decline

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The percentage of youngsters sent to the California Youth Authority on narcotics law violations has dropped in the last few years, an Assembly committee was told today.

During the last eight years, the percentage of youths committed to penal institutions on such charges has declined from 7.7 per cent to 4.3 per cent, said Chester F. Roberts, head of narcotics research for the agency.

He testified to an interim hearing of the Assembly Criminal procedure Committee investigating narcotics problems.

Bus Survey Cards Still Coming In

Returns on a survey of Marin bus riders last month have reached 53 per cent and "cards are still coming in," according to Frank H. Waring, project engineer, for Coverdal and Colyitts.

Waring reported to the Marin County Transit District board last night that the cards were available to 5,625 riders from San Francisco to Marin.

The results of the survey are expected to be compiled in about a month, he said. The survey included origin and destination data, and information about how each rider arrived at the bus stop.

Coverdale and Colpitts was hired by the transit district to conduct a bus transit study at a cost of $60,000. Waring said the study is expected to be completed in October.

Wind-Blown Tree Limb Kills Two

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)— Two persons were injured fatally last night when a violent wind storm blew the limb of a tree down on their car.

The driver of the car, William W. Garrett, 51, was killed outright. A passenger Mrs. Pearl Guenther, 74, died a short time later in a hospital. Both were Phoenix residents.

The storm toppled dozens of trees and there were widespread reports of damage in the Phoenix area.

Audubon Tour

The Marin Audubon Society will conduct a tour Sunday at the Rodeo Lagoon at Fort Cronkhite, open to the public and starting at 9 a.m. A story in Tuesday's Independent-Journal incorrectly said the tour would be Saturday.

Perilous Coast Drowns Wader

HALF MOON BAY (AP)—At Frances State Beach, just north of Half Moon Bay, is a sign which reads "Dangerous Undertow. . . Lifeguards Not on Duty . . . No Swimming."

Darrell Roth, Nancy Laughton and Wayne Craig, all 17 and from San Francisco East Bay area communities weren't swimming, but they went wading yesterday in knee deep surf. Roth of Pleasanton was swept 150 yards to sea and disappeared.

Miss Laughton and Craig made it back to shore despite the undertow.

The Coast Guard searched today for the body of the boy, who was presumed drowned.

Whenever you entertain, this is the drink that is. For a cool, refreshing Mule, made with Smirnoff and 7-Up®, is a treat to start with and stay with. Only Smirnoff, filtered through 14,000 lbs. of activated charcoal, blends so perfectly with 7-Up. Follow the rule for the Mule. Make it with Smirnoff!

How to make the Smirnoff Mule: Jigger of Smirnoff over ice. Add juice of ¼ lime. Fill Mule mug or glass with 7-Up to your taste. Delicious!

Sets of 6 Mule mugs $3.00: Send check or money order payable to Smirnoff Mule, Dept. T, P.O. Box 225, Brooklyn, New York 11202.

Palo Alto Hospital, Nurses Step Up Talks

PALO ALTO (AP) — With resignations of 340 nurses scheduled for Monday at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital, both the hospital and the nurses have stepped up bargaining efforts.

But the hospital has initiated an emergency program to reduce its patient load in preparation for the nurse walkout. The hospital has a 572-patient capacity, and administrators hope to reduce the number to 150 by Monday.

The nurses ask a salary scale of $530 to $782. They have rejected an offer of $505 to $745.

In Santa Cruz, public health and county hospital nurses were given an ultimatum yesterday to revoke resignations they have submitted to be effective Aug. 17 by midnight tonight or have them accepted.

The county Board of Supervisors ordered Dr. Gilbert Dunahoo, county health officer, and Dr. William Cress, county hospital medical director to recruit new nurses immediately.

Lake Hachirogata, once Japan's second largest lake, has been drained and the new land being settled and cultivated at the completion of an operation taking 10 years.

LBJ Friend Quits Demo Party Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clifton C. Carter, friend of President Johnson, has resigned as executive director of the Democratic National Committee.

In a letter to party Chairman John M. Bailey, Carter said, "I feel that in fairness to my family I can no longer delay my return to private business." He took the post in January 1965.

The White House said Johnson had known for some time Carter wanted to return to private life.

The title of executive director is being abolished, Bailey said. Named to take over Carter's duties was John Criswell, 34, a native of Oklahoma and former assistant managing editor of the Houston (Tex.) Press.

U.S. Asks Russia To Lead Way In Reactor Shutdown

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States today proposed to the Soviet Union that Moscow lead the way to global disarmament by a reciprocal plant-by-plant shutdown of plutonium reactors.

This would be the first step towards an international treaty under which all nations would stop production of fissionable material for nuclear weapons, the proposal said.

U.S. disarmament negotiator Adrian S. Fisher said ways to verify U.S. and Soviet reactor closures would be so simple and unobtrusive that Moscow could not reasonably reject the proposal.

The method of verifying the shut-downs involves placing what is called a "safing tape" inside a reactor which could not be replaced or tampered with because of special seals that would show if the reactor had been re-opened. Thus, inspectors would have to make only infrequent visits to make sure the reactor remained closed.

Combo To Play

Me, My Mother and Country, a six piece combo, will play for a dance starting at 8:30 o'clock tonight at Strawberry Point School. Sponsored by the Strawberry Teen Club, the dance is open to members and their guests.

MODELING A bright "at home" outfit at yesterday's Northgate luncheon sponsored by the Professional Wives of Marin is Mrs. Richard Clark of the Lawyers' Wives of Marin. The luncheon was the fourth in a series at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

SANDALWOOD OWL glasses accentuate the sportswear ensemble modeled by Mrs. Roger Garety of the Lawyers' Wives of Marin. Among other highlights of the fall fashion parade was a toga evening gown, space age jewelry and dress of mail.

A FITTING FINALE to the show was the pants suit worn by Mrs. Lawrence Friedman of the Women's Auxiliary to the Marin Medical Society. Other professional sponsors were the Women's Auxiliary to the Marin Dental Society, Femineers, Women's Architectural League and Women's Auxiliary to the Marin Pharmaceutical Assn.

Wives' Preview Fall Look—

GUESTS PAID rapt attention as the models promenaded down the runway. In the foreground is Mrs. Kenneth Bechtel who hostessed a table at the luncheon. The luncheon series was begun 20 years ago at the Ross locale.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Champion Jinx Told To Stop And Reason In Order To Break Chain

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Youth Asked For It, care of Helen Help Us! the Independent-Journal.

DEAR HELEN:

I do more stupid things and get myself into more trouble in one day than five groups of hoods do in a lifetime. I am a jinx to myself.

Here's one of my better days:

First I woke up—that's bad enough. Then I forgot to do my chores and got my allowance docked.

I had a baseball game that day, but the doctor told me I shouldn't play because of a torn muscle. I told my manager. Then I thought I'd go to the beach and get some sun. What's wrong in that?

I'll tell you what's wrong: After the game, along comes the guy who gets me in the most trouble. He wouldn't believe about my leg and is going to tell the manager of the team I was swimming, when I should be playing baseball, so I may get kicked off the team.

At the beach I also lost a brand new expensive beach towel that a girl took by mistake, and my father's $4.50 sunglasses, and got sunburned.

This is just an example. I've had lots worse days. How can I unjinx myself? — UNLUCKY JINX

DEAR JINX:

Think ahead! When you learn to stop and reason, "If I do this, then this might happen," you'll soon become a jinx-breaker—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Nice kids with their nice easy little problems won't believe this, but it happens a lot where there's no place to go but the street and nothing to do but what everybody does—get in trouble. I'm a slum kid.

I'm in the 10th grade and I've had to "go away" three times because of this boy. He won't let me date others. Every time there is another boy near me he is furious and ready to kill. Each morning he picks me up and makes me stay with him all day, and threatens to hurt my mother if I won't go. He steals . . . He sells dope too, mostly marijuana and pills.

I don't have a father and my mother works at two jobs, housekeeping. She hates me because I've been in trouble. Everybody thinks I'm no good, and I think so too. I help him do bad things because I'm scared. Maybe because it's easier, I don't know. But I want out. Help!—AFRAID TO GIVE MY NAME AND THE REAL FACTS

DEAR AFRAID:

There's only one way out, and that is by way of the Juvenile Court. Turn yourself in and ask for protection. I predict you'll be placed in a good foster home, and this hood will be placed where he is no longer a threat to you or your mother.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

To the 19-year-old "Victim of outdated social restrictions": I found out in the long run it pays to go along with your parents. I was also 14 when I met this wonderful 19-year-old boy. Instead of fighting my folks about dating, I compromised and asked that he be invited to Sunday dinners occasionally.

Today I'm 21 and he's 26. He has finished college and I got my degree in June. Wedding bells will soon ring. So you see, if you're willing to meet your parents half way, they'll realize your choice is wise.—EXPERIENCE SPEAKS

DEAR HELEN:

My fiancee says we should share everything, so "Tell me all about your ex-girl friends." Some of them were dogs. Must I?—DEKE

DEAR DEKE:

Edward Manuel Lino Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Lino of Sausalito announce the birth of their first child on Aug. 1 at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

The baby has been named Edward Manuel Lino. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Oliveira of Mill Valley. The baby is their first grandchild.

He is the 19th grandchild for the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lino of Sausalito.

Godparents are the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Abel Silva of San Jose.

Boys Take Over

"Boy" looks take over with the girls, with the military influence strong—Navy shirts, pea jackets and officers' coats copied for the coeds. Pants suits include camels, brushed plaids, leather, corduroy and buckskin.

MR. AND MRS. GERALD ALAN MOYER were married by the bridegoom's father, the Rev. Gerald S. Moyer in the First Baptist Church in Mill Valley on July 29.

Gossling-Searle Rite In Mormon Temple

Los Angeles Mormon Temple was the setting on July 29 for the morning wedding of Genae Searle of Long Beach and Ronald C. Gossling of Greenbrae.

For the reception held at Third Ward Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in Long Beach, Genae wore a sheath gown of Chantilly lace with bouffant train.

Mrs. Dallas Haynes of Long Beach was matron of honor and the bride's sisters, Jacque and Joyce Searle of Long Beach, and Judy Bond, also of Long Beach, were bridesmaids. All wore Empire gowns in various shades of pink.

McClain Bybee of Las Vegas served as best man and ushers were Scott McGreagor of St. George, Utah, Dean Christensen of Las Vegas and Gary Taylor of Long Beach.

Following the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to Laguna Beach and Las Vegas. In September, they will return to Provo, Utah, where they are students at Brigham Young University.

The bride was graduated from Millikan High School in Long Beach. The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Gossling of Greenbrae, was graduated from Redwood High School. He is the brother of Harold Gossling Jr. of Spokane and Kenneth Gossling of Portland.

Color Makes News

Color makes news in men's footwear for fall, because of the green or blacked tone in which black or green is added to the basic color—which could be anything from light or dark brown and hand-rubbed for an antique look. Other browns have a greenish cast. Wine and black cherry tones continue.

Linda Rosa Marries Garry L. Aquilino

Linda Ann Rosa of San Rafael became the bride of Garry L. Aquilino of San Anselmo in a Saturday ceremony at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rosa of San Rafael.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie accented with seed pearls. The skirt extended into a chapel train.

Preceding the bride down the aisle in floor length gowns of Nile green were her sister, Dianne Rosa of San Rafael as maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Darlene Rosa, another sister, and Loretta Nunes of San Rafael.

Robert Boracchia of San Rafael was ringbearer.

Terry Aquilino of San Rafael acted as best man and ushering were Phil Steinhart of Walnut Creek and James Rosa of San Anselmo, the bride's brother.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and Healds Business College. Ronald Rosa of San Rafael is also her her brother.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Aquilino of San Anselmo, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and Healds Business College. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Aquilino of San Anselmo are his grandparents.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will live in San Anselmo.

The bride-elect was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin. She is a member of Job's Daughters, Bethel 48 in San Rafael. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Ray Elder of San Rafael and the late Mr. Elder.

The future bridegroom, son of Mrs. Tyler L. Weeks of Novato and the late Mr. Weeks, was also graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin and Memphis State University where he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. He is serving with the U.S. Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base.

MRS. EUGENE F. KERN III

Kern-Bramante Rite Is In Massachusetts

A ceremony at St. Anthony's Church in Fitchburg, Mass., on Aug. 7, united in marriage Rosemary Bramante of Fitchburg and Eugene F. Kern III, son of Mrs. George C. Faulkner of Novato and Eugene F. Kern Jr. of San Francisco.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bramante of Fitchburg, wore an empire gown of ivory Alencon lace appliqued on English net over peau de soie.

Her sister, Concetta Bramante, wore a strawberry linen empire dress as maid of honor. Bridesmaids Mary Mastroianni of Hopedale, Mass., Carole and Susan Oliva of Fitchburg, Mass., Carol Brady of North Attleboro, Mass., and Judi Kern of Novato, sister of the bridegroom, were similarly dressed.

Acting as best man was Bradford Verge of Fitchburg and Leo Masse of Fitchburg, Nicholas Mastroianni and Peter Zachilli of Hopedale, Mass., and Edward Thomas of Leonminster, Mass., ushered.

Eugene was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin. His wife was graduated from Fitchburg State College and is employed as a teacher in Fitchburg.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will make their home in Fitchburg where Eugene is employed as an assistant engineer. He is the grandson of Mrs. Eugene F. Kern of San Francisco.

Marilyn Kay Vlahos Bride Of Charles R. Hendrickson

The Greek Orthodox Church of Ascension in Oakland was the setting on July 31 for the wedding of Marilyn Kay Vlahos and Charles Roger Hendrickson, both of San Rafael.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vlahos, wore a sheath gown of French net with re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed in seed pearls and with a chapel train. She was attended by Karen Gamma as maid of honor and bridesmaids Mrs. Edward DeMaestri, sister of the bridegroom, Patricia Thorburn, Colleen Musta and Teresa Rinaldi. All wore full length dresses of pink crepe.

Following a reception at the Bermuda Palms in San Rafael, the couple left on a wedding trip to Los Angeles and Las Vegas. They are making their new home in San Rafael.

Both Marilyn and Charles attended College of Marin. Marilyn was graduated from San Rafael High School and her husband attended Cogswell Polytechnic College in San Francisco.

A Wedding Aboard The Lurline—

By MOLLY MARIN

An unusual wedding of wide interest yesterday in Sausalito was that of Mrs. George A. Tett of Sausalito and Martin Lehmkuhl of San Francisco which took place aboard the S. S. Lurline before it sailed for the Hawaiian Islands.

Family members only attended the double ring ceremony performed at 1 p.m. by the Rev. John S. Thornton of the Episcopal Christ Church in Sausalito.

The bride wore a muted green and pink brocade suit. Best man and matron of honor were the bridegroom's cousin and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lehmkuhl of Sausalito.

Following the ceremony a reception was held aboard the ship. Sailing with the newlyweds were the bride's younger brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Chatham of San Francisco.

On their return after Sept. 1 the couple will live in Sausalito.

The new Mrs. Lehmkuhl, who is a member of the Sausalito woman's club, has lived in Sausalito since 1952. Her husband has his own business as a manufacturer's agent in San Francisco.

His daughter by a previous marriage is Carol Lehmkuhl of Santa Cruz.

THE EARLE MARSHES and Robert L. Schultzes of Mill Valley will go to Los Angeles on Aug. 19 to be present for the Hollywood Bowl appearance of the Marshes' famous daughter, dramatic soprano Jane Marsh, on the next evening.

This will be her first performance in California since she recently won top vocal honors in the International Tschaikovsky competitions in Moscow.

After that the Marshes are hoping Jane will be home for a brief period before returning to New York.

MRS. FLORETTE WHITE POMEROY honored the Begum of Pakistani Ambassador Chulam Ahmed at a luncheon in her Sausalito home yesterday. Invited to meet Begum Ahmed and Mrs. M. Rashid Ahmad, wife of the Pakistani consul general, were Mesdames Jackson Chance, Margarete M. Connolly, P. K. Gilman, Mortimer Fleishhacker Jr., Louis Heilbron and Miss Elizabeth Clark.

BEING HONORED at bridal showers is Phyllis Davis, daughter of the Robert Davises of Mill Valley, who will be married to Tom Giacomini of Petaluma on Aug. 20 at St. Monica's Catholic Church in San Francisco.

Phyllis, who was graduated from the University of California at Davis last year, was given a miscellaneous shower Friday by two former classmates, Mrs. Ronald Sbragia of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Charles Alcock of Tracy. It was held at the Sbragias' home.

Thursday hostesses at a lingerie shower at the home of Mrs. William Ellis of Tamalpais Valley were Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Gene Taldo, also of Tamalpais Valley.

FASCINATING TO many Sausalito friends are the letters written by Mrs. David Mitchell (Elaine) who, with her husband and three children, has been living in Alaska for more than a year.

Persuaded by friends to go with them and help with the lodge for guests they own near Juneau, the Mitchells decided to try it for a year but did not sell their home in Sausalito. They like it so much that so far they have no plans for returning to Sausalito.

Mr. Mitchell, who was in the travel business here helps with arranging transportation for guests to Taku Lodge, which is in an isolated spot on Taku River about 40 miles from Juneau. It can be reached only by small plane or boat. Communication is by radio phone, and they are completely dependent for power on a diesel plant. It was threatened once by a fire that caused great excitement.

Elaine writes that in the summer their home is a three-room log cabin in this glacier country. Taku Glacier is 10 miles below them, and others nearby are Hole-In-The-Wall, East and West Twins, Norris and Wright glaciers. A popular pastime is watching chunks break off the glaciers.

Despite this location, weather, she said, is not cold in summer and when the temperature got in the 70's they were glad to have the fog come in.

Elaine says she does a lot of cooking, even the sour dough kind.

In winter the family lived in Juneau, where the children, Michael, 10, and Melanie, 8, attended school. They also have a baby daughter Kelly, 2.

Friends were not surprised to learn that Elaine, who was a leader in dramatics and Sausalito Little Theater, played a leading role in a play produced by the Little Theater in Juneau. It was "The Orchid Sandwich" written by an El Cerrito man.

She said when the legislature is in session in the winter, workers are so scarce that she had a hard time turning down two jobs offered her in the state offices. She is, however, on the state payroll, appointed by the governor to help his wife in the governor's home during legislature sessions when they have to do a lot of entertaining.

Sandra Lynn Burke Weds Kevin Waltz

The Rev. John Riley officiated at the wedding of Sandra Lynn Burke and Kevin George Waltz, both of San Rafael, held at St. Raphael's Church on July 31.

Sandra, the daughter of Mrs. Robert H. Franzel and James R. Burke of San Rafael, wore a full length gown of white lace and satin fashioned in an empire style.

Her sister, Mrs. Ted Westerhold of San Rafael, wore a gown of rose chiffon as matron of honor. Bridesmaids Laurie Waltz, sister of the bridegroom, Dede Velati and Mrs. Eddy Morrow, all of San Rafael, were similarly dressed.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Fairfax Women's Club.

Sandra, the sister of Jim Burke of San Rafael, was graduated from San Rafael High School and is employed with Roos/Atkins in San Francisco. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Skuczas of Monterey.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Oussenko of San Rafael and attended from San Rafael High School. He is serving with the U.S. Navy.

The couple will make their home in San Rafael.

Homeowner Opens War On Burglars

Robert E. Clover of Sausalito has declared his own private war against the children he claims have broken into his property four times within the past month.

Last night, he launched his first big offensive—to get the help and co-operation of those of his neighbors who have children. He tramped the neighborhood pushing into mail boxes the first of more than 60 copies of an open letter which reads in part:

"The children involved are well on the road to becoming serious juvenile delinquents and must be stopped. I am certain they know the wrong they are doing, or else they have certainly had little guidance by their parents . . Are these YOUR children?"

Clover lives at 309 Tomales Road, a self-maintained road which comes to a dead end.

He lived there quietly and undisturbed for 15 years until July 9 when he experienced the first of four robberies. Subsequently, his property was broken into the following day and on Aug. 2 and Aug. 4.

On the first occasion, he said, gold fish were taken from a pool, plants damaged and fish food emptied into the water. Later, patio equipment, tools and a radio were stolen and other items, including sharp knives, taken from a storage shed.

On Aug. 4, said Clover, his home was entered, jewel boxes ransacked, piggy banks rifled and a family heirloom, a silver ring with a large square-cut red stone, stolen.

He said that sheriff's deputies agreed it appeared to be the work of children. Items were left scattered about the grounds and a rope was used as a swing on the bow of a tree. Several children were seen in the vicinity by a witness.

In his letter to neighbors, Clover wrote: "If any of your children have had any of these items which have been stolen, I am certain that you, as an adult, will know what to do with them and with the children involved."

Today, Clover, a San Francisco advertising man, said it was too early to get reactions.

"I suppose I shall get words of protest from parents who think I am picking on their children. That is why I mentioned no one specifically.

"I have had occasional children take fruit but when they start breaking in and taking what is not theirs, I think it is time I do something about it. I thought parents were the best people to approach."

Clover, who has no small children himself, asks parents with information to contact him by telephone.

"If you have no children," he concluded his letter to neighbors, "this may caution you to examine the security of your own property against such unlawful entry."

He has asked the sheriff's office to keep his home under surveillance.

Cocktail Party

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker will host a $100-a-couple cocktail party at his San Rafael home tonight for 100 supporters of State Treasurer Bert Betts, to launch Betts' campaign for re-election.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy is president of the Marin Junior College District Board.

The Marin City Community Action Committee has Ellihue H. Johnson as chairman.

Forest Fires Char 300,000 Acres Across Four States

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Forest fires, the scourge of summer, have blackened nearly 300,000 acres in Alaska, California, Oregon and Idaho the past week. Some of the costly blazes are still out of control.

A blaze was reported late yesterday to be threatening a Nike-Hercules missile launching station near Fairbanks, Alaska. Military officials declined to give details of the fire. State officials said, however, that fire fighters were making firebreaks to halt the flames.

Alaska officials also said they were hopeful crews would contain sometime today a range blaze that has charred more than 152,000 acres 150 miles east of Fairbanks. Sections of the huge fire were reported under control already.

More than 1,000 soldiers were being used to fight a fire that has chewed through 45,000 acres of forest in the Yukon Command Maneuver Area northeast of Eilson Air Force Base in Alaska.

Another 45,000-acre blaze was being battled near the Cement Creek Area northeast of Tetlin, Alaska.

In California, fire fighters yesterday finally all but contained a 20,000-acre blaze that had been raging for days through brush and timber land south of Lake Pillsbury in Mendocino County. More than 2,000 men were pressed into service to dampen the flames.

A fire that ravaged nearly 10,000 acres of timber land was contained Tuesday near Covelo in Mendocino County.

In Idaho, firemen breathed a sigh of relief yesterday when they brought under control a 10,000-acre fire in timber around Charters Mountain near Garden Valley. State officials said the damage caused by the weeklong blaze totaled $2 million.

Firemen were also having their troubles near Coos Bay, Ore., where a 1,000 - acre fire continued to run rampant. The blaze was believed to have started from the friction of a cable rubbing against a tree at a logging operation on Tuesday.

Insufficient Evidence In Burglary Hearing

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court Tuesday ruled there was insufficient evidence in a preliminary hearing against John William Rundle, 19, to hold him over to Marin Superior Court on a burglary charge.

Today is Thursday, Aug. 11, the 223rd day of 1966 with 142 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning stars are Mars, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn; there are no evening stars.

American songwriter Carrie Bond was born on this day in 1862.

On this day in history:

In 1935, Nazi storm troopers demonstrated against the German Jews.

In 1962, Soviet astronaut Andrian Nikolayey was launched into space for a trip that lasted nearly four days. He was followed 24 hours later by astronaut Pavel Popovich.

In 1964, race riots that swept the New Jersey cities of Paterson and Elizabeth for two days, broke out.

In 1965, Negroes began rioting in the Watts section of Los Angeles. Several days of violence took 34 lives, and 856 others were injured. Many structures were burned and looted and hundreds were arrested.

A thought for the day—Canadian author John Stringer said: "Our bitterest wine is always drained from crushed ideals."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Many Players Take Unnecessary Calculated Risks Just For Name

Many bridge players don't care what they do as long as they have a name for the play.

South called his a "calculated risk," but both the calculation and the risk were needless.

No. 3004 .....Aug. 11, 1966

Opening lead — ◇ 5

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and returned the five of hearts.

South put on his best thoughful manner and tried a finesse with the queen of hearts. He expected results from this play but he got consequences.

West won with the king of hearts and returned the suit, forcing out the ace.

SHOULD TAKE ACE

South didn't need the heart finesse and should have hoped to get through the hand without ever having to risk it.

He should take the ace of hearts at the second trick and led the queen of diamonds to knock out the king.

If West continues hearts, South gets a second heart trick.

If West leads anything else, South has nine tricks with three spades, three clubs, two diamonds and one heart.

The need for a finesse in hearts would arise only if East had both top diamonds.

When South takes the ace of hearts and returns a diamond, East might then win and lead a second heart. Even then South would still be able to put up the queen of hearts and hope for the best.

It doesn't pay to refuse all finesses just because an opponent leads the suit.

It does pay to refuse a finesse that you don't need and may never have to try.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ Q A K 9
♦ J 9 3 2
♣ Q 8 4 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one notrump.

You would like to make a stronger bid with your 10 points in high cards, but the hand isn't suited to any other bid.

If partner bids two hearts, you may indicate your strength by bidding two notrump—a slight overbid.

Killer Gets What He Wants: Death

The two-time killer was executed for murder at the Oklahoma State Prison last night.

He faced death with the same cockiness he faced life.

The 30-year-old condemned slayer, who repeatedly rebuffed efforts to spare his life, walked calmly into the execution chamber a few seconds before 10 p.m.

French, in trouble since he was 16, was sentenced to die for the Oct. 27, 1961, strangling of his penitentiary cellmate, Eddie Shelton. French was serving life at the time for the 1958 murder of Frank R. Boone.

Bar Group Supports Jury Picking Section

MONTREAL (UPI) —The American Bar Assn. ended its 89th convention today on record in favor of President Johnson's jury selection portion of the civil rights bill. But two critical topics remained unsettled.

The delegates responded to an appeal yesterday by Atty. Gen. Nicholas D. Katzenbach, who asked them to oppose a resolution which disapproved of the section of the bill.

Only 57 votes were mustered for the resolution introduced by a Maryland group headed by William L. Marbury of Baltimore. It asked the ABA's policy-making arm to oppose the bill's requirement that jurors be selected at random from voter registration lists. The nay votes were not counted among the 275-member house of delegates.

The two important matters that did not reach the floor were ABA studies on new standards of professional conduct and one possible conflict of the constitutional guarantees of a fair trial and a free press.

The professional conduct study deals with canons that have been virtually unchanged for 60 years. Suggestions for changes are being drafted. An ABA panel expects to make recommendations next month on the often-agonizing problem of the fine line between the rights of a defendant and the right of the public to know.

Black Power Forum To Be Held Tuesday

A forum on "Black Power" will be held at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley Tuesday at 8 p.m., according to Paula McCoy, representative of Marin Friends of Student Nonviolent Cordinating Committee.

Mike Miller, Bay Area SNCC representative; Dan Brown, SNCC organizer in the San Francisco Haight-Ashbury District, and Ron Brideforth, SNCC field secretary will lead the forum, leaving the major portion of the evening for questions from the audience, according to Mrs. McCoy.

Attorney Backs Card On Suspects' Rights

A San Rafael attorney yesterday jumped to the defense of the little cards which Marin policemen have started handing to every man or woman they arrest to advise them of their rights.

Hadden W. Roth also took issue with those who have blasted the new procedure as a hindrance to proper law enforcement.

The procedure went into effect this week on the advice of Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, who warned that all law enforcement agencies in the state must begin conforming to recent Supreme Court decisions requiring criminal suspects to be informed of their constitutional rights before questioning.

The procedure was criticized Tuesday by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales and two Marin police chiefs.

Roth, however, said "there's something wrong with a system which depends on a failure to advise people of their constitutional rights. Why these people shouldn't be advised of their rights as soon as they are suspected is something I could never understand."

He said the decisions, "perhaps the most significant ever handed down in the field of criminal law by the Supreme Court," are an attempt to equalize the rights of the rich and poor, since the poor cannot afford legal representation.

Roth also contended that the decisions were caused by "excessive zeal on the part of police at the interrogation stage."

As an outgrowth of court decisions, Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch recommended cards advising suspects of their rights.

Bales, who is providing Marin police agencies with the cards, said Tuesday he felt the new procedure "is silly."

Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark said the procedure would hamper police operations, and San Anselmo Police Chief Raymond Buchignani described it as a "serious handicap."

The cards inform suspects that they have the right to remain silent, that anything they say can and may be used against them in court, that they have a right to a lawyer and that an attorney will be appointed to represent them if they cannot afford one.

Dipsea Preservation Try Difficult For Commission

They continued discussion until their Sept. 14 meeting.

Park and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske said Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Tonelli, owners of a new home at 315 Panoramic Highway, will not provide an easement for the trail without payment.

He said that most of the trail is across private lands, and if the county starts paying for easements, the cost will be too great.

There is an easement further north of the Tonelli home, he added, but the county would have to build steps to make this route usable.

The Tonellis knew nothing of the Dipsea Trail or the races until one morning when Mrs. Tonelli went out to get the paper and saw several people running by in track suits, Joske said. The family complained that they had located there for privacy, Joske said.

Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks told the commission it might be possible to establish an implied dedication of the trail through court action. The county, however, would have to prove there was enough continual use of the trail to show that the public had been adequately put on notice of its existence.

Witness fees in such a suit would be heavy, Hendricks declared. Commissioners asked Joske to continue studying the problem.

Bay Lawmen Indicted In Bookie Bribe Case

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—The grand jury returned bribery indictments last night against Alvin Prara, a San Mateo County Sheriff's captain, and Joseph Farrell, a former San Francisco police inspector.

They were charged with accepting bribes to conceal a bookmaking operation.

Prara, who was suspended a year ago, and Farrell, now a security guard for a San Francisco hotel, were originally indicted by a federal grand jury. Federal Court Judge William T. Sweigert dismissed that case on July 28 saying no violation of federal law was involved.

Judge Sweigert said, however, the failure of the state to prosecute was scandalous. The case was then given to the San Mateo County Grand Jury.

Specifically, the two former law officers allegedly accepted bribes of from $350 to $600 a month from George C. Cummings, who says he was a bookmaker, Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson reported.

Nuclear Generator Placed Off Alaska

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Navy has installed a nuclear generator on Fairway Rock in the Bering Straits, 10 miles off Alaska, to provide power for an oceanographic station measuring currents, temperatures and other sea conditions.

The generator, which cost the Navy $58,000, is guaranteed to produce 25 watts of electricity for two years. It was built by Martin Co. of Baltimore, is fueled by radioactive strontium-90 and is designed as a rugged power source for use in remote areas.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 11, 1966 — 23

LOST BIRD FINDS A HOME

Where Highway 101 Is Busiest

Where the average daily traffic volume on the Golden Gate Bridge is 82,000, the flow swells to 90,000 in Corte Madera and gradually recedes to 33,000 in Novato, he said.

Robertson presented his traffic flow study to the Marin County Transit District Board last night.

He explained that the count was calculated on the basis of average daily traffic volume, rather than on the basis of peak hours when the Golden Gate Bridge carries the heaviest load.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said it was "startling" to hear that the Highway 101 traffic was highest in Corte Madera.

Robertson said the average length of a trip along Highway 101 "is not much more than six or seven miles."

Supervisor Peter H. Behr, a director, noted that Highway 101 carries a mixture of local and commuter traffic, and "as you get near the Golden Gate Bridge, you lose local traffic."

Robertson also reported that a count on the Shoreline Highway at Panoramic Highway showed a sharp upturn on weekends, particularly Sundays.

The weekday count was 2,700, the Sunday count just short of 5,000 and the Sunday count 9,500, he said.

Directors agreed to push their fight to provide a fourth lane on highway 101 southbound through the Waldo Tunnel.

They asked the staff to request a place on the Sept. 21 agenda of the State Highway Commission for their plea, and authorized Director William Jack Adams, a Novato councilman, to represent the board at the session.

Adams quoted Dist. Engineer Alan Hart of the State Highway Division as saying it would cost $180,000 to increase the stretch to four lanes by widening. The alternative would be to provide a fourth lane by re-striping.

Directors also said they felt that the highway division should create a fourth lane wherever they are repaving, such as the project between Alto Hill and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

After hearing the traffic statistics on Highway 101 in Corte Madera, Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, a directcor, said "This means the crash program should be between Corte Madera and Greenbrae."

A visior at the session was H. John Mieras, transit planning coordinator, Urban Planning Department, Division of Highways.

The board adjourned until 8 p.m. Sept. 28 at the Civic Center.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker and Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, both directors, were absent.

The Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday that the board would receive a request from James Adam, Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District Manager, for endorsement of the Highway 101 re-striping. There was no request from Adam.

Appraisal Request Called Premature

Members of the Marin County Park and Recreation Commission yesterday agreed that their director, Pierre W. Joske, jumped the gun in asking for permission to check titles and seek appraisals of land around the north shore of the Bolinas Lagoon.

Joske said the appraisals would be the first step in public acquisition of land. After hearing from Gene Mc Daniel, chairman of the Bolinas Harbor District, Joske suggested himself that his timing was off.

McDaniel said that the master plan being prepared for the district by Norman T. Gilroy of Mill Valley is about to be disclosed in a series of public hearings.

The criteria for the plan will be aired in Stinson Beach Aug. 20 and in Bolinas Aug. 25. The plan itself will be shown in Bolinas Sept. 17 and in Stinson Beach Sept. 22.

County supervisors are to again take up the open area zoning issue for the lagoon on Oct. 18.

Retired Rear Adm. H. E. Bramston-Cook, a director of the Marin Conservation League told the commission that it has been impossible for the league to get any information on the plan.

He charged that this was contrary to the request of county supervisors that the plan be prepared in conjunction with interested groups.

"What you say hasn't happened is about to happen," McDaniel said, referring to the hearings.

Bramston-Cook said the league considered purchase for preservation of the 110-acre Kent Island near the mouth of the lagoon, but the price of $82,000 was too high.

He said any harbor development should be south of the island near the mouth of the lagoon for easy flushing of wastes and pollutants.

Earlier studies showed Marina Development on the east shore, well within the Lagoon. Neither Gilroy nor McDaniel would say yesterday where the new plan will recommend location of the Marina.

Boys Lost In Sierra Rescued

Two Peacock Gap boys, sons of Samuel L. Wright Jr., general manager of Fox and Carskadon Realtors, Inc., were rescued Tuesday when they were lost hiking 8,000 feet up in the Sierra near Lake Tahoe.

John, 14, and Samuel, 11, were with a group of young friends all reported missing Monday night after they left their parents at Upper Echo Lake to strike out on their own.

Alarms Installed In New Fire Station

Bells, buzzers and an alarm system are being installed by Novato firemen in the new fire station in San Marin, the Novato fire district board learned last night. Firemen are planting trees and shrubs prior to moving into the new station on the week of Aug. 22, board members were told.

The board also paid $10,298 in bills.

COMPROMISE SET ON LIBRARY PAY

By CAROL MARSH

Larkspur Mayor Vaughn M. Marker told the Larkspur Library Board last night that the library must be run more systematically, even if the council has to disband the board and take the job itself.

Last night's special meeting of the council and the board had its roots in the board's request for a 25 per cent raise for head librarian Helen Wilson. The council responded to the request by asking City Manager Kent B. Bathurst to make a study of the library board, and the two groups met last night to discuss the recommendations Bathurst made in his report.

Most of the meeting's heat centered around the raise. Bathurst recommended that salary adjustments for library personnel be considered in December along with those of other city personnel. Board members felt Mrs. Wilson and her helpers should have an immediate raise, and councilmen agreed that present library wages are inadequate.

Marker said other city employees get 2.5 to 5 per cent raises on a set schedule. "The only way I could justify this 25 per cent increase would be if it were justified by more services and demands on the time of the library employees," he said.

Board member Daniel Allen said Mrs. Wilson's salary, $400 a month, is considerable lower than salaries paid comparable employees elsewhere in the county.

"This library is only open half as long as most of the other libraries in the county," Marker said.

"I'd like to know what you guys on the council make an hour," Allen said angrily, and Marker replied, "Actually, my salary as a councilman is quite low."

The library board members proposed keeping the library open for 10 additional hours a week, and the council agreed. Under the new schedule, the library will be open 31 hours a week, from 1 to 6 p.m. daily, 7 to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights and 10 a.m. to noon Saturday.

The salary issue was resolved with a compromise. Marker asked that the board come up with an interim raise proposal which would take effect as soon as the budget is approved, then study the salaries of library personnel to put them on a systematic schedule similar to that of other city employees.

The interim salary raise will be considered Aug. 24, when the council will approve the city's final budget and set the tax rate.

Marker asked for several other things from the board, prefacing his requests by saying:

"Past councils have been indifferent to the library, and something has to be done to put the library on an equal footing with other city departments. One solution could be that the council could repeal the library ordinance and bring the library under the council. I'm not saying it should be done, but it could be."

He asked that the board investigate sources of library analysis and information available free to the library; that the board examine in detail the services of the library and the needs of the community, and recommend ways to improve library service; and that the board make a report on needed library facilities and ways to finance them.

He also asked for reports on use of the city's Friend's of the Library group and on the pros and cons of joining the North Bay Co-operative Library System.

Allen said the board has already made many of these studies, "but the information hasn't come back to the council because this is the first interest the council has shown in the library."

Marker said the library has been run too "impromptu—too emotionally," and must be put on a systematic basis.

Water Tanks Beautification Plans Ordered

The Marin Municipal Water District is investigating the hiring landscape architects to beautify its water tanks, target of recent public criticism.

General Mgr. William R. Seeger told the board yesterday that he is looking into hiring a consulting landscape expert to see if the district's many exposed tanks can't be hidden or disguised. He specifically mentioned creating a park at the entrance way to the new Mill Valley water tank near Edgewood Road.

"This is improving our image," Board President William A. Marcus commented. "The public nowadays is sensitive to all things the eye can run into." The color of the tanks is important also, he added.

The board approved Seeger's proposal and instructed him to report back.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Agreed to have a district engineer represent the North Marin Water District in discussions with the Sonoma Flood Control District on the proposed joint Dry Creek project near Russian River.
2. Approved in principle an annexation policy that would charge a joining district $50 per $100 assessed valuation per acre. Marincello would pay an estimated $75,000 to join the district under the policy.
3. Agreed to provide service to the Magnisi restaurant at the Sundown shopping center near Hamilton Air Force Base until the North Marin County Water District can provide service.
4. Approved a $14,000 pipeline extension agreement with the Meadow Unit Number One Assessment District, Larkspur.
5. Approved five district employees taking University of California extension course on surveying and soil analysis at a cost of $100.

Full Circle On Request For Funds

Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission has come full circle in its years-long quest to finance parks, chairman Gibbs H. Lawson concluded yesterday.

His comment came when county park and recreation director Pierre W. Joske suggested that a county park district, with a maximum tax of 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation might be formed as one means of financing park purchase and development.

Lawson said this same suggestion several years ago brought a storm of protest and resulted in creation of the commission as an alternate measure.

Joske said he has discussed several financing plans with the county counsel's office. The district would be legally feasible So would creation of a county wide service area.

A special tax in the existing county tax structure would be more difficult and would require enabling legislation from Sacramento, he said.

Joske recommended formation of a "blue ribbon" citizens group to study the problem, but commissioners delayed consideration of this suggestion.

The Marin county park and recreation commission yestetrday also:

1. Recommended that the county administrator's office study anti-litter signs which state the amount of the road littering fine, following the example of other areas. Commissioner Elizabeth B. Davies showed pictures of signs and clean roadways from a recent trip to Hawaii.
2. Approved criteria on recommending points of historical interest to the state department of parks and recreation. The criteria must be approved next by the board of supervisors.
3. Heard that Guy R. Johns, 32 of Pomona has accepted the new Marin position of park planner at $829 a month and will take the job Sept. 6. He is with the landscaping firm of eckbo, Den, Austin and Williams of Los Angeles.
4. Learned that preliminary studies of the Bolinas beach erosion problem will not be completed by the army corps of engineers until next summer and the final report not until July, 196.9
5. Recommended that Muir Woods National Monument be left under federal control and not transferred to the state park system as proposed in the federal bill for creation of the Redwood Park in Del Norte county. Joske told the commission that the monument was not a necessary part of the redwood park trading plan with the state. Commissioners Aline McLain and Lothar Salin were absent.

14-Year-Old Boy Admits To Burglary

A 14-year-old Los Angeles boy, arrested in a stolen Cadillac in Fairfield yesterday, has admitted breaking into the Gerry G. Falk home at 107 Altura Way, Larkspur, Police Chief Howard Clark reported today.

The boy, once a resident of the Murray Park area of Larkspur, was booked on a charge of burglary at Marin County Juvenile Hall, Clark said. He is also wanted by Los Angeles police on charges of grand theft and burglary.

With the boy when he was arrested in the vehicle stolen from San Francisco was a 14-year-old Larkspur girl. She was booked at juvenile hall as a runaway, Clark said.

The chief said the boy had a watch and class ring reported stolen from the Falk residence Monday night, but the boy said he knew nothing about a $200 diamond ring, also reported stolen.

Clark said the boy told him he usually just broke into the houses for the cash he might find there. Los Angeles police had alerted Larkspur officers and sheriff's deputies that the boy might be in the area.

Battery Stolen

Theft of an auto battery was reported this morning to Mill Valley police by Dr. Robert Leggett, 1 Vasco Drive. The battery was taken from his car while it was parked overnight in his driveway, he said.

Parks Commission Objects To Policy Change Proposals

If the policy of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission is to be changed, the commission wants to do the changes itself.

That was the reaction of commission members yesterday after they saw policy changes that the Marin Planning Commission recommended to supervisors Monday.

County Parks and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske said that he saw the planning commission recommendations yesterday morning.

"I hate being a rubber stamp," Commission Chairman Gibbs H. Lawson said.

"It's unreasonable and improper," commissioner Melton Ferris said.

The changes, according to the planning department, are necessary if the county is to implement the new ordinance requiring dedication by subdividers of land for neighborhood parks.

The planning commission recommended this ordinance to the board of supervisors at the same time it recommended the policy changes.

The change in park policy would put the county in the neighborhood recreation business if there were no other agency or district to take over operation of dedicated land.

The planning commission also recommended that the park and recreation commission encourage formation of new districts to operate the added parks when necessary.

Lawson thought that this would be something the Marin County Agency Formation Commission, usually opposed to additional small district, might want to study.

Park and recreation commissioners agreed yesterday that the suggested amendment should be studied by a committee of the commission.

San Rafael Still Taking Major Share Of Marin Apparel Sales

Downtown San Rafael merchants are driving hard to improve their sales, and commencing next week they will make Wednesday night the official shopping night, hoping for an improvement over declining Friday night trade.

As the county grows, with stores opening in all areas, so are its buying trends dispersed more widely and Fourth Street stores must face increased competition from several quarters.

Even so, San Rafael still maintains an advantageous position in the sale of men's, women's and children's apparel among Marin buyers, according to findings from a research study conducted for the Independent-Journal by Field Research Corp.

About 23 per cent of Marin households favor San Rafael for buying men's clothes, compared to 15 per cent in Northgate, 14 per cent in Corte Madera Shopping Center and 8 per cent throughout the rest of the county. Only in San Francisco does the Marin male still dig more deeply in his pocketbook to maintain his wardrobe (35 per cent). Doubtless because of the number of men who commute to the city daily.

In women's wear, San Rafael shows up even better with 28 per cent of the purchases, compared to 26 per cent in Northgate, 12 per cent in Corte Madera, 8 per cent in all the rest of the county and 27 per cent in San Francisco.

For children's clothes the trend is more localized—22 per cent of Marin homes tend to buy in San Rafael, 16 per cent in Northgate, 15 per cent in Corte Madera, 9 per cent throughout the rest of the county and the same in San Francisco.

A NEW BRANCH OFFICE at 1299 Fourth Street, San Rafael has been opened by Ed Slevin and Associates, San Francisco public relations and advertising firm, to handle an increasing flow of North Bay accounts. One of these is the Rio Nido Resort on the Russian River, headed by San Rafael attorney P. Roy Vallarino. Principal of the agency, Ed J. Slevin, is a resident of San Rafael.

AFTER 11 MONTHS of suspended operations because of destruction of its former quarters by fire, Mrs. Fawn Morris of San Anselmo has reopened her Fawn's Beauty Nook at the same address—934 B Street, San Rafael.

Property owner Mrs. Dorothy Eberwein has put up a new building. Half of it is occupied by Fawn's; the remainder is up for lease through Timmer Realty.

MRS. FITZIE DAWSON of Tiburon has joined the Tiburon office of Fox and Carskadon, Realtors. She has had 10 years experience in building and remodeling homes and seven years of interior decorating with Sloan's. Prior to that she spent 12 years of radio broadcasting and research with the Columbia Broadcasting System.

CROCKER - CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK has now come out with a statistical study of employment and business activities in California—a booklet called "A Quick Look at the Business Market in California." Available upon request at any Crocker-Citizens office.

VESSELS OF 20 nations sailed through the Golden Gate last month, with 410 arrivals and 411 departures. Almost 60 per cent were of American registry, showing a gain over June and also over July, 1965. Most of the increase was in tanker movements and government-operated ships. Intercoastal and coastwise arrivals accounted for 180 out of 244 ships.

Foreign flag shipping dropped off to 169 arrivals, with principal declines in British, Danish, Dutch and Japanese shipping. Norwegian and Swedish traffic increased.

Shipping Increase Reported For Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Another increase in San Francisco Bay shipping traffic was revealed today in July figures compiled by the Marine Exchange.

The exchange reported 413 arrivals last month, 12 more than in that month a year ago. The total included 244 American vessels, an increase of 18.

The foreign flag vessels included 49 from Norway, 26 from Japan, 18 each from Sweden and Liberia, and 15 from Germany.

SOMETHING NEW ON WEDNESDAYS?

Peering through a magnifying glass, Mrs. Anne Bennett appears to be searching for hidden significance in the badge displayed by Marvin Larson, manager of Cazassa's, San Rafael men's store. Downtown merchants will wear the oversize lapel decorations for the next two weeks to call attention to their new Wednesday night shopping program, beginning Aug. 17. For most stores, Wednesdays will replace Friday night openings.

Trio Drifts 10 Days In Sight Of Shore

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) — The tale of a man and two women who drifted 10 days in a disabled boat in the Gulf of California — often tantalizingly within sight of land—unfolded today.

Clarence Dace, 62, Highland sheet metal worker, his wife, Myrtle, 58, and Mrs. Ruth Johnson, 55, are recovering from their ordeal in San Bernardino Community Hospital.

Mrs. Johnson's son, John, 26, who searched Baja California in a jeep for the party and drove them here after they were found gave this account:

The three left Puertecitos in Baja California July 29 on a fishing excursion in an 18-foot cabin cruiser.

"They lost their fuel through a leak in the gas line and their motor conked out. They tried and tried to get it started but ran down the battery. From then on they just drifted.

"They went through a storm and had three days of high seas. The boat was engulfed by water a couple of times and they had to bail. Rough seas nearly capsized them. My mother said that one stormy night lightning hit the boat.

"A high wave threw Mr. Dace from one end of the boat to the other. He hit his head on the windshield and was knocked out.

"Their food supplies lasted about the first four days. From then on they ate raw fish. The last two days they had nothing to drink. They just wet their lips with ocean water.

"One day they would be in sight of land, then they next they couldn't see it. They'd think they were drifting in toward shore, then the wind would change and take them out.

"Monday night they finally got close. Mr. Dace jumped out with a rope tied around his waist and pulled the boat. The women helped push with poles and then jumped in to help him after they got the boat closer to the beach."

Dace went looking for a light they had seen for a couple of nights, Johnson said—and collapsed. He was found by a farm family, which took the party in.

Architect Is Hired For Park Development

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District last night hired San Francisco landscape architect Tony Guzzardo to prepare a master plan for park development, including the district's undeveloped oleander park property.

Recreation Director James Hand said a $1,000 maximum was authorized for the master plan work. Directors asked Hand to set up a meeting with Guzzardo.

Since 1785 The Times of London has devoted page 1 to advertisements. However, ads now will go to pages 2 and 3.

Sierra Club Film Banned At Yosemite National Park

YOSEMITE (AP) —A Sierra Club film that opposes construction of two dams on the Colorado River has been banned from Yosemite National Park.

Supt. John M. Davis said today he ordered the Yosemite Park and Curry Co., a concessionarie, to stop showing the film in its hotel, lodge and Camp Curry because of its controversial nature.

"The reason I banned it is I don't believe the park should be used as a platform to debate public controversial issues," Davis said.

The 19-minute film, Glen Canyon, describes the flooding of the Arizona canyon after construction of a dam in 1962 and warns that a similar fate would result for the Grand Canyon if Marble Canyon and the Hualapai dams are built on the Colorado.

Davis said his decision was protested to the national parks director, George Hartzog, by Sierra Club President Michael McClosky.

Hartzog replied that he completely approved of Davis' decision.

Inmate Indicted For Escaping

Herman Edward Eyrich, 30-year-old San Quentin inmate, was indicted yesterday by Marin County Grand Jury for escape from the prison July 15.

Eyrich, of Butte County, allegedly escaped from the waterfront area outside the prison walls, but inside the fence, by hiding in the second van of a double trailer rig.

He was arrested after one day's freedom by San Anselmo police tipped by a motorist who had given Eyrich a ride.

Eyrich is serving time for second degree burglary on a Sept. 5, 1963 conviction in Butte County. The indictment also charges three other convictions.

Best Idea Yet — Wastebaskets!

NEW DELHI (AP) — After a one-year trial, the Home Ministry decided its suggestion box scheme was not going to work.

It said no suggestions entered were worthy of the cah prize offered.

Officials said they were considering using the boxes for waste baskets.

State Wins A Round In Billboards Battle

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The state has won the first round in its battle to limit billboards on highways, but it has been told further court testing should be done before billboards actually are removed.

Superior Judge Ralph H. Nutter denied a request yesterday by the Columbia Outdoor Advertising Co. for a preliminary injunction to prevent state officials from removing four advertising signs on the Santa Ana Freeway.

However, Judge Nutter said the case should be tried for final court determination of the issues before any order is issued for removal of the signs.

Columbia officials were challenging an amendment to the 1933 State Outdoor Advertising Act which was passed by the 1964 legislature.

Under the amendment, advertising signs cannot be erected near the intrastate highway system in any area zoned after 1959 for industrial or commercial purposes.

Columbia, ordered to remove the signs last March 1, claimed the law violated the equal protection clauses of the California and U. S. constitutions.

Bank Bandits Believed Using Getaway Airplane

BIG LAKE, Minn. (UPI) — Two men robbed the Citizens State Bank of Big Lake of an estimated $9,000 today and apparently fled in a red and white airplane that landed at a small airport to pick them up.

Authorities issued an alert for such a plane.

The two men, described as about 25 years old and dark complexioned, held up the bank shortly before 9 a.m. The Federal Bureau of Investigation said the exact amount taken was not known immediately but that bank officials "Presumed it was in the neighborhood of $9,000."

Authorities said the holdup men drove a 1965 or 1966 Chevy II to Flynn's airport, operated by Flynn's Flying Service, between Big Lake and Monticello.

Nick Flynn, owner of the flying service, said a red and white plane "zoomed in, picked up the men, turned around and then took off again, just barely clearing the power lines."

Brain Surgery Described In Killing Trial

Testimony in the murder trial of J. D. Jones, 30, charged with the hammer-slaying of his ex-wife, Mary L. Jones, began yesterday afternoon in Marin Superior Court.

Dr. Sam Hanzel, Greenbrae neurologist, testified that the woman died as a direct result of brain injury following the application of force to her head.

Jerome Durham, public defender representing Jones, questioned the doctor repeatedly if cause of death could not have instead been from strangulation by the woman on regurgitation from the stomach.

Doctor Hanzel, however, replied that this was only an incidental effect of the brain injury, and not a significant cause of her death.

Jones, of 79 Cole Drive, Marin City, allegedly battered the victim to death Oct. 20, 1964, following an argument over custody of their son, 3-year-old James Davis Jones J.R.

He has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity in the jury trial.

Program To Train Teachers To Begin

A program of training for nursery school teachers will begin at College of Marin next month, according to Joseph E. Berruezo, assistant dean of vocational and technical education.

The two year program will train the students to be assistant teachers in nursery schools, Head Start programs and child care centers, he said. Graduates will receive an associate in science degree and certificate of completion.

Use Permit Hearing On Center Slated

Public hearing on a use permit asked by Ross Psychiatric Center for a day care center for 14 Mental Health Foundation patients at 8 Toussin Street, Kentfield, will be held before the Marin County Zoning Administrator Monday.

The zoning commissioner's meeting will begin at 2 p.m. at the Civic Center. The hearing on the day care center is set for 3 p.m.

General Electric Agrees To Talks

NEW YORK (UPI) —The General Electric Co. (GE) agreed yesterday to resume bargaining on a new contract Aug. 15 with the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) provided no other union is present.

Philip D. Moors, GE's chief negotiator, said the IUE had claimed representatives of other unions had been designated last spring as members of the IUE negotiating team. He called it a subterfuge.

The company team walked out on talks May 4 because there appeared to be a coalition of unions across the bargaining table. The company asked a federal court to settle the dispute, and Philips said the company would confront a mixed group only if the court allowed it.

Dentist Given Honors By State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An award for outstanding service to Californians was presented today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to a dentist who has organized free dental care for agricultural workers.

The Golden C Award went to Dr. Donald G. MacQueen, director of the dental facility for the Los Angeles Hotel-Restaurant Employer - Union Welfare Fund.

The dentist has headed a drive to set up a complete dental office in the Delano area providing free weekend dental care for the farm laborers. Volunteers provide the care.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Radiologists have tried for decades to improve the taste of barium that is swallowed for X-ray and fluoroscopic examinations of the stomach and intestines. The chalk mixture is more palatable than it was, but it is difficult to get many children and some adults to take a second swallow after tasting the first. This is par for the course because ingested materials are evaluated on their merit and not whether they are a gourmet test.

Dr. Roscoe E. Miller of Indiana University Medical Center improves the taste by adding a good suspending agent that can be flavored to suit the individual. Children like sweets so Dr. Miller adds raspberry, orange, or sweet cherry to the product. Adults are partial to sirups of cocoa, raspberry, cherry, orange, and sarsaparilla. Many preferred citric acid and aromatic sirup of eriodictyon — a taste disguiser.

AN INSTANT drink flavor such as Kool-aid can be added just before the barium is consumed. Another alternate is to add a combination of flavors along with vanilla. Peppermint, lime, apricot, or citric acid sharpens the taste of the barium.

A word of warning: Don't expect the roentgenologist to permit sampling of the different mixtures at the barium bar prior to the X-ray.

Mittelschmerz is a German term meaning middle pains. We still use the expression possibly because a better substitute has not been found.

MIDWAY in the menstrual period, the ovum ruptures from the ovary and begins its trip down the tubes and into the uterus for fertilization. The breakthrough begins suddenly usually producing mild abdominal distress and often on the right side. In some the pain may be severe, lasting a few hours or as long as three days. The area is tender to the touch and the condition is easily mistaken for appendicitis when accompanied by nausea or loss of appetite. Distress is more pronounced when the ovary bleeds because blood irritates the lining of the abdominal cavity.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

CRUTCH FOR DIETING

R. G. E. writes: When someone is attempting to lose weight do you recommend any medication to achieve this goal?

REPLY

Many persons are strong willed and can reduce their food intake without resorting to pills and capsules. Most of these products are stimulants and may lead to jitteriness and interfere with sleep. In addition, their effect upon the appetite is temporary.

HYSTERECTOMY AFTEREFFECTS

M. S. writes: One month ago I had a complete hysterectomy. I am 46 years old and would like to know what to expect after this type of surgery. Are there any aftereffects for which I should watch?

REPLY

No. You may develop hot flashes but these are easily controlled with estrogens.

LOOK ELSEWHERE

Mrs. P. G. writes. Could gallstones lead to cardiospasm?

REPLY

This is most unlikely but there is an outside possibility because any disturbance of the gastrointestinal tract may affect another part of the digestive system thru reflex changes.

IT'S SAFE

Mrs. B. K. writes: Is it safe to have a necessary operation in the change of life?

REPLY

Yes. The menopause affects chiefly the autonomic nervous system and in this respect will not increase the risk of surgery.

Widow Files Suit In Shaft Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A widow has filed a $1.2 million lawsuit over the death of her husband in a Fresno dam shaft.

Mrs. Patricia Jean Gomolak of suburban Woodland Hills, charged in her Superior Court suit yesterday that her husband Richard, 40, was asphyxiated last April 19 in a negligently-built inspection shaft near the Vermillion Dam.

Gomolak was working for the Southern California Edison Co.

Named as defendants were George F. Casey Co., Patrick Riley, Armand Chevrier and E. J. Kippes.

The suit was filed on behalf of Mrs. Gomolak and her three daughters, ages 5, 12, and 17.

TV REVIEW

A Serious Filming Of Viet War

NEW YORK (UPI) —Many Americans now feel we are winning the war in Viet Nam, a belief which somewhat surprises Thomas H. Wolf. "We're not," said the executive producer of "ABC Scope" which has been concentrating on the conflict since last February. "The best that can be said is we've stopped losing."

Wolf has one of the most difficult jobs in television in trying to present a balanced picture of an involvement which has raised so many questions among Americans and provoked so many points of view.

PRIME TIME

"Every week, 52 weeks a year, in prime time we will carry on our effort to explain what is going on there," he said. "As far as I know we are the only show attempting to put the situation into perspective instead of just offering a review of the week. We are giving all viewpoints a share of the time because no one seems to know all the answers."

This Saturday "ABC Scope" will study the case of Cambodia and explore the questions of whether the neutral nation is a sanctuary for the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars and why it considers the Americans to be the intruders in Viet Nam. Wolf said one of his correspondents got the first filmed interview for the program given by chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk in two years.

COPTER TEAMS

Wolf, whose "ABC Scope" is now taken by 110 stations, is also completing a one-hour documentary "To Save a Soldier" based on the work of the helicopter medical teams in Viet Nam.

"The ratio of wounded to dead has been going down with each war and in Viet Nam it is at its lowest yet," he said. "The reason is that the helicopters can get medics there 10 or 15 minutes after an attack and the wounded can be on the operating table in 45 minutes. Our last day of filming there we covered an under fire landing and a kid had his guts shot out. Half an hour later he would have been dead except that in half an hour he was undergoing surgery."

Annual Barbecue

Mill Valley Lions Club will have its annual public barbecue Sept. 11 in Boyle Park. Food, games, prizes and entertainment are offered at the popular barbecue.

Bucs Appear On Verge Of Runaway With Flag

Pittsburgh Increases N.L. Margin

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Are the Pittsburgh Pirates on the verge of breaking from the pack in the tight National League race?

That was the question on the minds of most Pirate fans today as Pittsburgh pulled into a 1½-game lead over San Francisco and 2½-game lead over Los Angeles.

Two-run homers by Willie Stargell and Jim Pagliaroni powered the Pirates to their victory.

Stargell's 25th homer capped a four-run rally in the third inning and sent Pittsburgh ahead 5-0. The blast brought across Roberto Clemente, who had singled home Gene Alley. Bill Mazeroski started things with a single, was sacrificed to second and came home on Alley's single.

That blast gave Vernon Law, 8-5, a comfortable 9-3 lead.

However, Law was lifted in the sixth and Billy O'Dell came on to finish the game.

"Those were just bloopers falling in there," said King. "I'm quite sure Law's back and going to to a real fine job for us the rest of the year."

GIANTS WELCOME RAIN; WEARY PITCHERS REST

The San Francisco Giants, currently in the thick of the National League pennant race, may get a shot at the flag after the regular season ends.

The Giants were rained out of their final appearance at Cincinnati last night, and league president Warren Giles indicated the contest would be played at the end of the season—only if the league championship is involved.

The rainout gave the ragged San Francisco pitching staff a much needed two days rest. The Giants return to action at Candlestick Park tomorrow night against the Houston Astros.

The Giants and the Reds watched the rain pour down for an hour and 50 minutes before last night's game was postponed. Meanwhile, the second-place San Francisco club lost a half-game to pace-setting Pittsburgh and picked up half a game on third place Los Angeles.

Disastrous Road Trip For Dodgers

ATLANTA (AP)—"We simply couldn't put it all together often enough this trip," said Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Alston referred to a disastrous road trip, just completed, in which the third- place Dodgers salvaged only five victories in 13 games. The Atlanta Braves beat them, 3-1, last night as Don Drysdale sagged to his 13th defeat against eight victories

"In the past two games we've made one run on three hits and one run on eight hits after scoring 23 runs on 33 hits in the two previous games," Alston said. "Our pitchers and hitters can't seem to get together."

The junket knocked Los Angeles 2½ games behind National League-leading Pittsburgh. The Dodgers have a rest today before opening a home stand Friday against the lowly Chicago Cubs.

The victory completed a Braves' three - game series sweep over the Dodgers, whose only runs the past two games were scored on solo homers by slugger Jim Lefebvre, who now has 19.

Lefebvre hit his homer in the second inning, after Felipe Alou opened Atlanta's first with his 25th homer of the year. It stayed deadlocked until the fatal fifth.

Alou opened the inning with a grounder, which Gilliam couldn't handle, and wound up on second base. Later he scored on Hank Aaron's sacrifice fly. Then Joe Torre's single and Rico Carty's double brought home the first run.

The Dodgers received solid relief pitching and stayed in the game until Willie Davis, representing the potential tying run, lined out to Alou in the ninth to end the game.

Terrell Granted License In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernie Terrel, World Boxing Assn. heavyweight champion, was granted a license today to fight in New York by the State Athletic Commission.

The three-man commission unanimously approved George A. Hamid Jr., as Terrell's manager. Hamid is a principal owner of the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League and the steel pier in Atlantic City, N.J.

In approving the license, the commission thus reversed a ruling in January denying Terrell a licese because of the fighter's association with Bernie Glickman, which it called detrimental to the best interests of boxing.

The first ruling forced the cancelation of Terrell's scheduled March 29 title fight against Cassius Clay, world heavyweight champion except in WBA territory, in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Harry Markson, Garden boxing director, said today, "We're interested in talking business to Terrell now that he's eligible to fight in New York. We would be interested in talking about a Clay-Terrell fight, but Clay has other commitments right now."

Spirited Octogenarian Almost Scores Ace On Birthday Party

EIGHTY FORE!—The year 1921 was a good year in sports. Walter Hagen won the PGA, John McGraw's Giants beat the Yankees in the World Series, Big Bill Tilden was winning every tennis honor in sight and Jack Dempsey ruled the heavyweight boxing world. Also in 1921, John W. Glenn started playing golf.

The Hagens and McGraws and Tildens and Dempseys have faded from the sports scene, but, by golly, Jack Glenn is still playing golf. Three times a week, in fact. Which is pretty remarkable when you consider that Mr. Glenn happens to be 84.

MORE THAN 100 friends helped Jack Glenn celebrate his birthday yesterday with a tournament and testimonial dinner at the Meadow Club, of which he has been a member since 1930. It was a sentimental gathering and there wasn't a dry guy in the house.

Outside on the course, 33 of 96 tournament players beat Glenn's net card of 107-31—76. He can do better than 107, but suffered through 18 holes of constant but good-natured heckling yesterday.

THE HONORED octogenarian almost met financial disaster on the par 3 11th hole when his tee shot came perilously close to an ace. Buying drinks for THAT gang would have put Glenn in the hole along with his ball. He was happy with his birdie deuce.

The dinner, attended by more than 100 men, left the usually gruff Glenn visably moved. The roaring rendition of "Happy Birthday" and "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow" shook up the radar screens on nearby Mt. Tamalpais.

Glenn, who was born Aug. 10, 1882 in Virginia, says "I can't hit my hat" when asked about his golf. But his Meadow Club buddies say, "He hits straight as an arrow and hasn't been in the rough or a trap in years."

HE ALSO loves to wager on his favorite pastime. Al Murray tells about the day Glenn was so busy making bets on the first tee of a tournament that he forgot to tee off. Later, after walking down the fairway, he raised all kinds of hell because he couldn't find his ball, accusing Murray of stealing it. A caddy politely told him, "Sorry, Mr. Glenn, but you forgot to tee off."

THE OLD DUFFER, if he'll pardon that term, has never won any major tournaments in his 45 years of golf, but has picked up considerable hardware in seniors tourneys and has shot two holes-in-one—the latest in 1963.

When I talked with him last week, Glenn growled, "Whenever there's a hole-in-one everybody sits around and gets a heat-on. Someone got one yesterday. Have I got a hangover!"

GLENN, WHOSE wife has been hospitalized for some time, lives alone in San Anselmo and still presides over the Glenn-Rowe Cigarette Vending Machine Co. he founded in 1929, commuting to his S. F. office daily. Prior to then he worked 25 years for the American Cigar Co., travelling throughout the country. He moved to Marin County in 1921, the same year the golf bug bit him.

HIS FRIENDS marvel at his fine physical condition and ability to play 54 holes of golf each week. His steady diet and daily exercises may explain it, but the real answer may lie in the net score he fired yesterday. Seventy-six.

That's the spirit.

Leach Withdraws From Jaycee Golf

Ray Leach of Novato withdrew from the International Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament at Greensboro, N.C. yesterday before finishing the second 18-hole round.

Leach, 16, picked up before holing the ninth hole, according to Bill Goodwin, director of public relations for the Jaycees. Goodwin, speaking from tourney headquarters in Greensboro, said Ray was the only youngster of the 199 junior golfers to pick up before finishing the round.

Goodwin said Leach continued playing "unofficially" and turned in a scorecard of 43-41—84. The Jaycee official said a par-35 on the back nine added to Leach's 43 front nine would have been good enough to qualify for today's round, if he had continued playing in the tourney.

The field of 199 was cut after yesterday's second qualifying round. The youngsters with 156 or better after the first 36 holes continued play today. The medal play tourney winds up tomorrow.

He added a 67 yesterday, four under par, to his 73 on the opening day for a 36-hole total of 140. His father, Tommy, was a Walker Cup player in the early 1950's, and his brother, Tommy Jr., is a top golfer at the University of Georgia.

A husky 14-year-old, Eddie Pearce of Tampa, Fla., the youngest player in the tournament, shot 71. With his first day 72, it was good for second place at 143. He missed seven birdie putts under 10 feet but sitll finished at par.

Six 49er Players Remain Unsigned

All the San Francisco 49ers were in camp today amid reports that half a dozen of them want to walk out because of contract disputes.

Although 49er management will not officially divulge the names of unsigned players, San Francisco newspapers identify the six unhappy players as offensive guard Howard Mudd, offensive center Bruce Bosley, offensive end Bernie Casey, quarterback Bill Kilmer and defensive backs Elbert Kimbrough and Jimmy Johnson. All are starters except Kilmer.

The National Football League veterans reportedly wanted to walk out of the training camp because they feel management has been too slow in coming to contract terms for the coming season.

One of the six players was quoted as saying that the veterans' bargaining power was hurt by coming unsigned to camp. If injured in workouts or an exhibition game, he would be worth less, the unidentified player explained.

"It's true that we usually are further ahead, but this has been a hectic period for us," said Lou Spadia, 49er business manager. "The merger and the John Brodie case have cost us a great deal of time."

Brodie negotiated for a new contract long after the 49ers started preseason training at their Moraga camp. The star quarterback arrived at terms last week, reported to be almost a million dollar deal. The other complication was the NFL merger with the American Football League.

Spadia said he did not see insurmountable obstacles between management and the players. He said even the unsigned players are in camp and working out.

Meanwhile, the 49ers are getting ready to play the Cleveland Browns Sunday at Kezar Stadium in San Francisco. Coach Jack Christiansen said linebacker Matt Hazeltine would be able to resume full practice next Wednesday, after being hobbled by a knee operation he had last year.

Joining the workouts after a one-day absence was defensive back Kermit Alexander, who missed one session because of bruised ribs suffered in last Sunday's losing game against the Dallas Cowboys.

Rookie offensive tackle Dave McCormick from LSU sufficiently recovered from an ankle sprained in last Friday's Chicago college all-star game to work out with the 49ers for the first time yesterday.

Christiansen still has not announced the starting quarterback for Sunday's game, but it is expected to be Geogre Mira. But it is believed Brodie will get in some playing time.

NUNS ARE REAL ROOTERS

Sister Margaret Therese, a nun of the Boston Archdiocese, shouts encouragement to the Boston Red Sox as they played the Cleveland Indians on "Nun's Day" at Fenway Park yesterday. It was the sixth time the nuns had been invited guests of Sox owner Tom Yawkey and, until yesterday, had never seen the team win. The streak included four losses and one rainout. The Red Sox finally came through, beating the Indians 2-0.

Phil Ace Has Near Perfecto

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chris Short admits he's not afraid any more, but he was scared stiff when he made a mistake against Lou Brock.

Short, Philadelphia's stylish left-hander, lost his perfect game on Brock's seventh inning single and finished with a three-hitter last night as the Phillies downed St. Louis 5-1.

The first 19 batters he faced went down quietly and Short, who had pitched a pair of two-hitters earlier this season, was breezing when Brock came up with one out in the seventh.

"When the pitch to Brock got up toward the plate, I knew it was the wrong one," Short said. "It was a high slider, right in the wheelhouse."

Brock jumped on it for a single to center, quickly swiped second for his 47th steal of the season, and rode home on Curt Flood's hit, spoiling not only the perfect game and no-hitter but shutout as well.

Short gave up one other single and earned his 13th victory of the season. He struck out six and walked none.

Short said he has conquered his fear of right-handed batters and that has made him a better pitcher this season.

BIG BEN USES HIS HEAD

Raider Giant Shrinking?

SANTA ROSA (AP)—No one's ever pulled Ben Davidson's handlebar moustache, but Oakland's 6-foot-8 defensive end certainly knows how to pull someone's leg.

He did it recently in the Raiders' camp, pointing to his two major problems:

He may be shrinking. And he oay be with the wrong team.

"See that guy there," Davidson said, pointing to a stubby lineman about 6-foot-1. "He used to be 6-6. Then he started to use his head like I do."

Davidson uses his head to help him with tackles, driving straight forward like a pile-driver with his head down, jamming it into the quarterback or ball carrier.

"I like to use my head," Davidson explained. "I've always done neck exercises to strengthen my neck. That makes the head a good weapon. With your helmet on, it's the hardest thing you have.

"The only problem is banging your head that way makes you a little shorter every time."

Davidson, however, is still listed at 6-8 on the Oakland roster. But then he just as easily could have been listed that way on the New York Jets' roster.

That story goes back to when Davidson was playing tackle for the Washington Redskins of the National League.

"Bill McPeak was the coach then—and he was notorious for not putting guys in their right place," Davidson explained. "So I was playing tackle. I couldn't make it there though, and eventually I was released. Al Davis (then the Oakland coach) and Weeb Ewbank (the Jets coach) called me.

"I told Davis I preferred to go to New York but he told me I had to come to Oakland. Then he said something about an equalization plan in which the Jets were supposed to get the high NFL cuts and the Raiders the low NFL cuts.

"Since I was a low NFL cut he said I had to come to Oakland. So I did. But I still don't know if it's true."

Davis switched Davidson to a defensive end position and he developed into one of the standouts in the league, last year gaining All-AFL recognition for the first time.

As for his moustache, which has become a trademark, Davidson feels it may be an advantage once in a while.

"Bob Svihus, one of our tackles, was playing against one of San Diego's reserves last year when all of a sudden the guy jumped offside," Davidson said.

"Svihus told me the guy said he got down into position, saw my moustache and practically fell across the line."

Linzy's Disappointing Year Blamed On Painful Shoulder

CINCINNATI—What has happened this season to Frank Linzy? The rugged righthander was sensational in 57 relief roles last season with 14 saves, a 9-3 record and ERA of 1.43. His pressure pitching in one emergency after another was the talk of the National League in 1965 and he finished third in Rookie of the Year balloting behind Jim Lefebvre and Joe Morgan.

HANLEY

There isn't any great mystery about Linzy's disappointing 4-9 record and 2.76 ERA this year after 37 relief appearances. He has been credited with nine saves but this year the rules have been relaxed in awarding saves to a relief pitcher. Two saves credited to Linzy this season would not have been permitted last year.

LINZY HAS had a sore shoulder since spring training. Just before the present road trip of the Giants started a couple of weeks ago, Linzy visited the team physician, Dr. E. C. Sailer, in San Francisco, who diagnosed Linzy's trouble as a general soreness of the shoulder, possibly in the socket but not traceable to any particular muscle.

Arrest of several weeks probably would take care of the ache but Linzy appreciates that is out of the question with the Giants fighting for a pennant in a nip-and-tuck National League Broken Bow, Okla., has been pitching in pain.

HE HASN'T forgotten how to throw his sinker. In fact, he has a natural sinker. His fast ball always sinks except when he occasionally favors his shoulder by pushing the ball instead of firing it. When he does that his fast ball stays belt high instead of dipping to a batter's knees. Batters love belt high fast ones.

Last year few batters were successful in hitting Linzy's sinker out of the infield. They chopped at it in desperation, sometimes chopping singles off the plate or dribbling hits to the edge of the infield grass.

OF COURSE, there were batters who did hit some of Linzy's pitches to the outfield last season but in most instances they were hits off Linzy's slider, his only other pitch and one he tries to waste.

In his 57 appearances last year, totaling 82 innings, Linzy allowed 76 hits. This year after 37 appearances he had yielded 79 hits. Three losses in his last four relief appearances on this road trip naturally has him worried and the Giants, too.

LINZY DEMONSTRATED in confidence or competitive spirit. his 38th appearance last Sunday that, indeed, he had not lost his confidence of competitive spirit. A walk, bloop single and bloop double put Linzy in a deep hole as the Cubs were threatening to take back a game the Giants had won with a four-run seventh inning rally.

"My shoulder didn't bother me one bit in that game," said Linzy. "It felt good and I felt good, real good, after saving that one. We needed that win."

Softball Tourney Gets Underway

Hamilton Air Force Base edged Oxnard AFB 5-4 in 12 innings and Adair Air Force Station nipped Kingsley Air Force Station 1-0 yesterday in opening games of the Fourth Air Force Softball Tournament being held at Hamilton Field.

Adair, of Oregon, then downed McChord Air Force Base of Washington 3-0 in a second round game of the double-elimination, five-team tournament.

Tonight Kingsley takes on Oxnard at 5 o'clock, followed by Hamilton vs. Adair, 6:30. The tourney is open to the public, free of charge.

Bears' Leggett Joins L.A. Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams have acquired veteran defensive tackle Earl Leggett in a trade with the Chicago Bears and his coach says he "can step right in and play."

Leggett, traded yesterday for two Ram 1967 draft choices, gained quick praise from Rams' Coach George Allen, who was defensive coach last season for the Bears.

THUNDERBIRD CLASSIC BEGINS

Nicklaus Says He Played Better Golf As A Rookie

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — It may come as a surprise to the rest of the touring pros but Jack Nicklaus says he was a better player when he first hit the golf trail four years ago than he is now.

"I hit the ball better then but I'm older now and a more experienced and better scorer," the 26-year-old Columbus, Ohio, strong boy said as he returned to the scene of his first big paycheck to defend his title in the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic beginning today.

In the first Thunderbird back in 1962, Nicklaus finished second to Gene Littler and pocketed $10,000. Since then he has risen to third place on the all-time earnings list — behind Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper — with $478,898.92. That includes his first check of $33.33 in the 1962 Los Angeles Open.

This is the first time since 1962 that the Thunderbird has been played at the Upper Montclair club. Nicklaus posted a 34-36—70 in a pro-amateur charity event yesterday and he found the par 72, 7,055-yard course pretty much unchanged.

The expansive greens are reasonably fast "with good putting ironically, was off the tee, where he is golf's longest slugger.

"I was lucky to hit the fairways the way I was playing," Nicklaus said.

Nicklaus birdied five holes, bogeyed three and had two three-putt greens.

Nicklaus' par-equaling 70 was bettered by eight of the 56 pros who toured the course yesterday. Gay Brewer and Canada's George Knudson posted 68s. At 69 were Al Geiberger, the PGA champion; Lionel Hebert; Tommy Jacobs; Kel Nagle; Dick Sikes, winner of the Cleveland Open last weekend, and Tom Weiskopf, who shot 66 and 67 in earlier practice rounds this week.

Bob Charles and Bob Goalby matched par. The tournament favorite, Bill Casper, had a 74 while Arnold Palmer shot a 71 along with nine others. The field of 122 pros and one amateur — Chet Sanok of the host club —

Baseball Mourns Passing Of Dressen

COMBINED AP & UPI

DETROIT — Baseball today mourned the death of Detroit Tigers Manager Charlie Dressen, an always fiery competitor who was regarded as one of the most dedicated men in the game.

Dressen, who would have been 68 next month, died yesterday of a cardiac arrest, just four days after he had been admitted to the hospital for the third time in 17 months.

Dressen suffered a heart attack in spring training in 1965 and was sidelined by the same ailment last May 16. His last confinement was for a kidney infection.

"I lost a great friend and associate," said Tigers Vice President and General Manager James A. Campbell, who hired Dressen in June of 1964 to replace Bob Scheffing.

"The contributions that Charlie Dressen made to the Detroit Tigers will be of great benefit to us in years to come, especially among our young players and the attitude of the whole organization," Campbell added.

A requiem high mass was to be sung at St. Aloysius Church in Detroit this morning after which Dressen's body was to be taken to Los Angeles.

Dressen's widow, Ruth, was expected to make final funeral arrangements later. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetary in Glendale.

Tiger players are expected to attend a memorial mass next Tuesday.

The Tigers, who lost a 12-inning 6-3 decision at Washington Wednesday night, lined the top step of the dugout and joined the Senator players and fans in a silent tribute before the game. The Tigers will wear black armbands for the remainder of the season, starting with Monday night's game against the New York Yankees.

Campbell refused to replace Dressen when he suffered his second heart attack, saying he preferred to wait until a medical report in mid-August before making a decision on Dressen's future.

Dressen was scheduled to meet with his heart specialist Monday.

The peppery Dressen, who managed the Brooklyn Dodgers when they won National League pennants in 1952 and 1953, had moulded the Tigers into his finest team since the Dodgers.

News of Dressen's passing stunned the club's acting manager, Frank Skaff, and the Tiger players.

"It is a terrible, tragic thing," said Skaff. "We're extremely grieved and heartbroken."

"This is a real shock to me," said veteran outfielder Al Kaline. "He was the best manager I ever played under as far as knowing the game of baseball was concerned. I saw him only the other day and I thought he was coming along fine."

Fred Haney, general manager of the Milwaukee Braves when Dressen managed that club in 1960 and 1961, commented, "Baseball has lost a great friend, probably one of the most dedicated men we ever had in the game. He probably gave his life to the game because he realized his condition, and yet chose to stay with his club longer than he should have."

Haney currently is general manager of the California Angels.

"This comes as a great shock to all of us," said Walter O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers. "We knew Charlie as a warm personal friend."

Dressen quit the Dodgers in Brooklyn after leading them to a second straight pennant in 1953 when O'Malley refused to give him a two-year contract.

Chicago Cubs Manager Leo Durocher, under whom Dressen served as coach in Brooklyn from the late 1930s until 1946, said, "I was certainly very sorry to hear about Charlie's death. He surely will be missed."

Washington Manager Gil Hodges, who played for Dressen at Brooklyn, said Dressen's death was a "terrible shock even though we knew he had ben sick. The way he rebounds, I thought he would beat this too. I've lost a good friend, along with many others in baseball."

A little (5-foot-6, 160 pounds) man, Dressen was known for his frank, honest talk. Before he mellowed with his 67 years, he could have even been classified in the Leo Durocher category, getting himself in and out of jams by occasionally popping off.

One of Dressen's favorite pastimes was cooking and he always classed "chili" as his top dish. One of his last acts as Detroit manager in mid-May was to prepare a large pot of chili at the request of Chicago's baseball writers who were visiting Detroit with the White Sox.

Dressen's last game in the baseball career which began as a player in 1919, was against the White Sox on May 15. The next day, complaining of a cough which had bothered him much of the spring, he was admitted to Ford Hospital and his second heart attack was diagnosed.

He stayed in Detroit—in touch with the Tigers—waiting for the word that he could return to try to guide the team to a pennant.

One of the persons hardest hit by the death of Dressen was Detroit pitcher Johnny Podres. Dressen engineered the acquisition of Podres from Los Angeles shortly before his heart attack and proudly announced "I started him in his first World Series game when he was a rookie in 1953."

"It was a terific shock when I heard of his death while watching television," Podres said. "I always liked and admired Charlie. He was quite a manager.

"It was Charlie who taught me my change of pace. I had a 9-4 record that first year and my changeup has kept me going ever since. He was great," Podres said.

Casey Stengel, whose managerial craft was rivaled only by Dressen's, said, "It's terrible. I can't think of enough to say about Charlie Dressen. He was a very intelligent man on the baseball field and he knew all the insides of the game.

LSU Starting Center Is Story Of Courage

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Big time football is a rugged sport and countless players have trouble making the grade even with two sound legs.

But they lack the iron will of Barry Wilson, the starting offensive center for the Louisiana State University.

Larry has only one good leg. The other is like a pipe stem, damaged by an attack of polio when he was a youngster. Its muscles have withered and some of the nerves have died.

"Few people know it," said LSU Coach Charles McClendon. "Barry does his best to hide it."

Barry's left leg, the one which took the polio impact, is much smaller than his right. He pads it with sponges and then wraps it with bandages so that the casual eye can't tell the difference.

Barry has been determined to be like the rest of the boys since his junior high school days when he had to sit on the sidelines and watch teammates mix it up in sports.

Wilson made the junior high team and went on to Holy Cross High School in New Orleans, where he won All-Catholic, All-State and All-America high school honors.

He also took up wrestling and became the Southern AAU champion in his weight. He was undefeated for two years.

Despite his size — he is 6-2 and 195 pounds — he attracted the eye of LSU scouts. Last year, as a sophomore, he won a varsity berth over bigger and stronger boys.

He is the No. 1 offensive center as LSU prepares for another season.

"He is one of the most determined boys I've ever seen," said McClendon. "He stays with his man.

"Because of his physical handicap, he has worked that much harder and the handicap has become a strong point."

Ron Cerrudo In Norcal Tournament

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael is an early entrant in the Northern California Golf Assn. 61st annual Amateur Championship to be played at Spyglass Hill Golf Course, Pebble Beach, Sept. 10-24.

Cerrudo, 21, was runner-up in the Western Amateur Golf Championships concluded just last week at Pinehurst, N.C., and made it to the quarterfinals of the Trans-Mississippi Amateur Golf Tournament held at Minneapolis, Minn., in mid-July.

The Norcal championships will be held Sept. 10-17, followed by a handicap tournament Sept. 18-24. Deadline for entry in the championships is Aug. 24, and deadline for the handicap tourney is Aug. 31.

Entry blanks can be obtained at any course pro shop—or from the Northern California Golf Assn., P.O. Box 1157, Pebble Beach.

Giardello Plans A Comeback

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former middleweight boxing champion Joey Giardello, saying he was getting bored with just sitting, disclosed yesterday he is coming out of retirement to fight again.

Giardello, 36, who vowed last October he would retire forever, said he will fight Cash White in Reading, Pa., on Sept. 20.

"I just haven't been happy," said Giardello. "I didn't have anything I wanted to do in my life. I was eating too much and drinking too much and staying up too late."

Giardello lost his middleweight title to Dick Tiger at Madison Square Garden in his last fight.

Hayes Sparkles As Pass Catcher

THOUSAND OAKS (AP) — Flanker Bob Hayes, the world's fastest human in his college days, is also making a name as a pass receiver.

Salmon Fishing Improves Around Farallones; Deer Kill Lagging

STEVENS

Some fairly good news for the salmon trollers who have grown weary of losing sinkers on salmon too small to keep off the S.F. beaches south of the Golden Gate. The skippers who made the long haul to the Farallones found fair fishing. For example, from Lee Anderson's party-boat headquarters I learned that the Miss Dragnet, on Monday, netted 14 salmon to 32 pounds and the Chinook brought in 10 salmon to 34 pounds for seven rods. Not red hot, but certainly better than last week when as many fish were tossed back as were kept.

APPARENTLY the hot weather has discouraged the Sacramento salmon except the upper north region. Striper striving in the Sacramento River has been fair for those who were able to stand the 106-degree temperature.

Striper fishing for fish in the 6 to 8-pound class has been fair in the Napa River with bullheads, anchovies and pile and blood worms bait rated best. It is still a little early for fast action in the Napa.

PLUG CASTING as well as bait fishing at Dillon's Point continues fair to good. Plugging has paid off mainly in the early morning hours and late evening. Some bass of good size have been taken.

The prolonged spell of hot weather is being blamed for slow trout fishing in most areas, and it seems to have affected the deer kill. Don Zunino of the Lincoln Bait Shop in San Rafael reported three bucks slain by his club. Don didn't say, but that is far below the usual kill in Marin County. "And," said Don, "they seem to be running much smaller—60 or 70 pounds only."

SPEAKING ABOUT hunting brings up the subject of dogs—dogs for hunting deer, waterfowl and upland game. And—speaking of dogs reminds me that I received my copy of wonder how many of you huntsmen subscribe to "Hunting Dog." If you do, I'll bet you were surprised at the article by Louis Howsley titled "Don't Cut That Bite." I was! I have frequently written about the treatment of rattlesnake bites. I have advised all persons who fish and hunt the high country in particular, to carry a snakebite kit with them at all times. But now I wish I hadn't advised the "Cut, suck, and use a tourniquet" method. After reading Howsley's piece I contacted a number of local drug stores and two sporting goods stores. All of them sold a snakebite kit with a suction affair, a razor blade for cutting a cross over the bite puncture. None of my contacts carried the kit recommended by Howsley.

The author sets down a number of reasons why the "Cut, suck, and tourniquet" is practically worthless in treating a pit-viper bite.

BUT THAT ARTICLE is only one of several very fine articles, in addition to the regular features concerning the hunting dog . . . his health, his kenneling, training, and other important topics for the owner or trainer of a hunting dog. Bar none, the magazine "Hunting Dog" is the best I have read.

I'm not sure if it may be obtained at all magazine counters, but it should be. This latest issue is 72 pages of down-to-earth dog lore.

Softball Action Set For Tonight

Large crowds are expected again tonight and tomorrow as action resumes in the seventh annual San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament.

The Larkfield Merchants, upset losers to the Marin All-Stars (Lady Lea Salon) in Monday's tournament lid-lifter, battle Luna's of San Francisco tonight while Sohner Tree Service and the All-Stars tangle tomorrow.

All weekday games begin at 6:30 p.m. at San Anselmo's Memorial Park. Admission is free.

Luna's will be making its tournament debut tonight against a team that many predicted would win the championship. The Lakefield nine is expected to throw Bob Hendley against Luna's Marsh Granados.

Tomorrow night's tilt will match the two unbeaten Marin teams in Sohner and the All-Stars.

Tournament director Frank Quinn, noting that more than 500 persons had attended the first two games, termed the fan interest as "both amazing and gratifying."

"If this continues, we should easily break all previous attendance records for this tournament," Quinn said.

Motorcycle Races Tomorrow Night

Russ Powell of San Rafael and Danny Davies of Mill Valley are among entries in the AMA Class A Short Track Motorcycle Race at Vallejo Speedway tomorrow, the qualifying spins set for 7 o'clock, and the first race slated to start at 8:30.

The one-fifth mile crushed-granite oval has been boosted by specially built equipment which has made the track faster.

Second Bridge Crossing Need Becoming Evident

For nearly 30 years since the Golden Gate Bridge collected its first toll, many have dreamed of the eventual day when the construction debt would finally be retired and the bridge would at last be toll-free.

From time to time the directors of the Bridge and Highway District have seen fit to reaffirm their intention to have a toll-free bridge just as soon as possible—in 1972, presumably, when the last non-callable bonds finally mature.

Even with today's present low tolls, the bridge produces far more income than it needs for maintenance, insurance, administration, interest on the debt and bond redemption.

It has been several years since the last declaration by the directors that they still regard a toll-free bridge as their ultimate goal.

There has been significant silence on this point.

The reason is simple.

The need for another crossing has become increasingly evident.

There was a time when many thought any future additional crossing would and should be paid for by some entity other than the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District. The state takes enough from us in gasoline tax money to underwrite construction of another vehicular crossing.

If the next crossing is to serve rapid transit primarily, then some appropriate public transit authority presumably would build and operate the new crossing along with the rest of the transit system.

But there are good reasons why the Bridge and Highway District may, after all, be the best agency for building a second crossing.

Consider that the Bridge Board, despite its occasional painful conflicts with public opinion, has provided the lowest tolls of any bridge across the Bay and that it has slowly but surely modernized the handling of traffic—without direct cost to taxpayers and without subsidy from gasoline tax.

In times past is was sometimes easy to become disgusted with the bridge board and bridge management's bungling of public relations, but over-all it must be recognized that as 1972 approaches, the directors and management have achieved their primary goals.

What of the future?

One of these days the directors must decide whether they are to proceed with construction of a second deck for vehicular traffic—the need for which grows crucial as traffic continues to grow without progress toward a second crossing.

The directors have—probably with proper prudence—indicated they will not go ahead with the second deck proposal until the San Francisco Board of Supervisors endorses it.

Since the San Francisco supervisors appoint more bridge directors than any other county, by far, it is logical for the bridge board to "go slow" until San Francisco supervisors make their views known.

If San Francisco doesn't want to affront or antagonize its neighbors to the north, it better make its position on the second deck known without delay.

We must not sit idly by and have the second deck go by default because a handful of San Francisco politicians doesn't want to face up to the issue.

Attacks On Brown, Rumford Act Highlight Republican Convention

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Two terms is plenty for any governor—particularly Pat Brown—and the Rumford housing act either should be repealed or amended by the 1967 Legislature.

These two pronouncements highlighted the Republican Party's biennial state convention last weekend in Sacramento.

Ronald Reagan, in a hard-hitting attack on Brown, vowed if elected to propose legislation limiting future governors to two terms.

"IF A MAN CANNOT do a job in eight years," the Republican candidate for governor asked, "what makes us think he can do one in 12?"

Reagan said the Brown administration — seeking to remain in power for a third term —had "grown tired and stale in office" and noted not even the President of the United States was allowed to serve more than two terms.

Delegates adopted a 14-point platform of "positive Republican precepts." And by far the most controversial plank was the one on civil rights.

After hours of debate and emotional protests by some Negroes, the convention adopted a plank calling for, among other things:

"THE REPEAL or amendment of the Rumford Act of 1963 and its replacement or amendment by constructive legislation which protects the free choice and constitutional rights of all citizens."

The move was sure to force the hand of Democrats. So far this year they seem to be going out of their way to avoid a flat declaration on the controversial housing act, which was repudiated by 4½ million voters when they approved Proposition 14 in 1964.

Democrats meet in Sacramento this weekend to elect new officers and also adopt a platform. They were certain to use the occasion to criticize Reagan and other Republican candidates.

The GOP's civil rights plank noted the party was "opposed to racial or religious discrimination or bigotry in any form." But it also said "attempts to achieve such elimination of discrimination by laws which are not acceptable to the great majority of our citizens are unworkable."

ANOTHER POTENTIALLY controversial issue—extremism—failed to develop. Mrs. Lee Sherry of Marin, northern vice chairman of the state central committee, had urged delegates to denounce specifically the John Birch Society. Party leaders, however, agreed the platform shouldn't get that specific. And Mrs. Sherry didn't show up to push her point.

Excerpts from other planks:

Agriculture—"Major legislation affecting agricultural employees including minimum wage and employee representation should be considered on a uniform national basis. Full-time members of the farm labor force are entitled to the same social insurance benefits as other workers. Agriculture should be free from production controls . . . so that its ability to operate in the free marketplace is not unduly restricted."

Government — "Republicans call for a thorough revamping of state government, to reduce taxes and expenditures." The party said it would seek to eliminate "political cronyism," "unnecessary functions of government" and secrecy.

Welfare—Termed the Brown welfare system a "wasteful giveaway program" and a "squandering of public funds." Pledged efforts "to provide a realistic rehabilitation program . . ."

State Sen. John F. Shelley of San Francisco campaigned in Marin with his wife, the former Genevieve Giles, who spent many years of her girlhood in San Rafael.

County Supt. of Schools Henry Greer said one-room schools at Angel Island and near Valley Ford would be closed, but there would still be 14 one-room schools remaining in Marin.

Whittaker Seen As A Good Citizen

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I happen to know Chuck Whittaker personally and I would like to cry "foul" against the attempts of Paul Jones, or anyone else, to impugn him for his defense of principles in which he believes, regardless with them.

Occupying a different point of view from that of Paul Jones, or Alan Cranston or anyone else, does not make Chuck Whittaker a second class citizen. I know him for a hard-working, God-fearing man of high individual morality and personal integrity, devoted to his family and generous to his friends, to a degree that not everyone attains.

I find Paul Jones' self-judgement of Paul Jones a distinct contrast to his guilt-by-association slur of a man he has obviously never met—an act to which I have never known Chuck Whittaker to stoop.

Murder Isn't One Of Sport's Aims

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Ralph Stevens in his "Fishin' Fool" column Aug. 5 rushes to the defense of the National Rifle Assn., at a time when it might be rotten-ripe to defend the people from the NRA.

Mr. Stevens wrote, "Let's hope the most populous state in the union doesn't go off half-cocked as a result of the tragic incident in Austin, Texas, and enact anti-gun legislation at the state or city level, nor that Congress passes a law at the government level."

That pretty much leaves things as they are, doesn't it Mr. Stevens? Which means that you and I are fair targets for murder or maiming by anyone who wants to buy a gun by mail and use it on us.

The automobile also is a lethal weapon, although Detroit didn't design it as such. Yet you and I have exchanged some precious personal rights and liberties — probably well-based in constitutional freedoms — for the privilege and necessity of owning and using this particular weapon.

Would you and the NRA then and all sports drivers, join in a campaign to eliminate the licensing of car owners and drivers? This would be consistent with your argument for the freedom to own and use, with no control or regulation whatever, a mechanism designed solely to kill.

A 12-year-old is not permitted to drive a car; a 12-year-old (or a person with a history of mental derangement) can own an arsenal. All he needs is the money, an envelope and a stamp.

Perhaps you carry a "Support Your Local Police" strip on your car bumper. Don't you think that most police departments would like to meet, talk to and size up the persons who are buying guns in their areas? Do you believe the NRA garbage that gun-licensing would deny any responsible sportsman or householder from owning a gun—anymore than licensing denies anyone the legitimate use of a car?

Certainly all casualties resulting from the mis-use of guns would not be eliminated, any more than all deaths and maimings from the mis-use of cars are eliminated by licensing and controls.

But it might reduce the carnage, Mr. Stevens. Wouldn't you sportsmen, despite all the NRA's press releases and pressure, be willing to take this chance?

Model Rockets Are Safe And Fun

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In 1959 model rocketry was started. The rockets are made of paper, plastic, balsa wood, and other lightweight materials. The engines are factory made.

The same year, the California assembly and senate passed a law which reads; (sec. 12503) Dangerous Fireworks, sky rockets including all devices which rise in the air during discharge. Remarks: Amateur and model rockets are classified as "dangerous fireworks."

In early 1962 Estes Industries made a survey on model rocketry accidents. In all there was one major accident and one accident with model rocket engines, both the same. This was when a boy cut open an engine, took out a spoonful, and lit it.

In 1964 I became interested in model rocketry. In 1965 a new law was passed which said that model rocketry would be legal if rocketeers had, a launching site designated by the fire department and got their engines from a dealer who had gotten a license from the fire department.

So far no areas have been designated, and no dealer has gotten a license. (I know the Fairfax Hobby Center has tried.) In 1961 the Air Force approved model rocketry, this year N.A.S.A. approved it.

This year I have started to form a rocketry club called the Mill Valley Rocketry Team. In our constitution it says: (Article II) "The purpose of this organization is to help promote Model Rocketry in California by the example it sets."

There is another type of rocketry which has had many accidents, we call it "basement bombing." There was a story of an accident from this kind of rocketry in the I-J a few years ago, about two boys in Sleepy Hollow.

The main differences between the two forms of rocketry are:

(a. B.B. rockets have heavy materials for main parts, Model Rockets use lightweight plastic, paper and balsa wood.

(b) B.B. fuel is made by people with little or no knowledge of fuels, M.A. fuels are made by machine and are certified by the National Association of Rocketry.

I wish that the Marin County Fire Department would do some work on Model Rocketry soon.

Who's To Be Blamed For Race Riots?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Shame on you for lauding Cranston's rehashing and warming over unfounded accusation against the John Birch Society. I know quite a number of them and they are, without exception, fine, responsible, patriotic American citizens.

If you really want to expose the perpetuators of racial upheaval may I suggest that one of the most appalling examples was last summer on the occasion of graduation at Howard University, when our President, on nation-wide television emphatically stated that all the ills, althe woes, all the deprivations and all the shortcomings that the negroes were suffering, could be directly blamed on the white man!

About two weeks later "Watts exploded"! And now almost every other large city has its riots!

Frequently Asked Questions, Answers On Viet Nam Situation

WASHINGTON — What are the most-asked questions about Viet Nam today? They are these, along with what I believe are the most reliable answers:

QUESTION—Is there a solid basis for the statements made by U. S. officials that Hanoi now realizes it can't win the war?

ANSWER — The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces have not won an engagement in a year. Enemy defectors are mounting, twice as great now as six months ago. From 15 to 20 per cent of the Communist troops are boys from 12 to 16 years old. The tide of battle is definitely with the South.

The sources for this are: (1) foreign diplomats who have talked with North Vietnamese officials in recent months; (2) U. S. and South Vietnamese intelligence; (3) hundreds of statements by prisoners and defectors; (4) Gen. Westmoreland's cautious on-the-spot appraisal.

QUESTION — But don't we still run the risk of getting bogged down in a jungle, guerrilla war in which U. S. forces are inexperienced and ill-adapted to fight?

ANSWER — We are not "bogged down" in the least. U. S. forces have mastered anti-guerrilla jungle and mountain fighting with unmatched speed and skill. Today the Vietnamese jungles and mountains are open highways over which and into which helicopter-borne U. S. troops can move rapidly and in large force. In mobility and deployment the U. S. has tremendous advantages in military technology over the enemy and on top of these is an even greater superiority. If you think of concentrated firepower in terms of World War II, what the U. S. can put at nearly any point any time in Viet Nam is unimaginably greater.

QUESTION—Why then isn't Hanoi showing more interest in negotiating an end to the war?

ANSWER—There is bound to be a time gap between Hanoi's knowing it can't win the war and deciding not to keep on trying in the hope that something will turn up. Realizing you can't win and acting upon it are two different things. Possibly the fighting is not fully and frankly getting to the political leaders in Hanoi. They also appear to be counting on the elections in South Viet Nam to weaken the government in Saigon and on the Congressional elections in the U. S. to weaken the leadership of President Johnson.

QUESTION—Are there other deterrents to getting negotiations underway?

ANSWER—Every party on the Communist side is saying no to negotiations for different reasons and this makes it hard to get talks started.

Moscow, even though it might well prefer to see the fighting end, is deterred from taking any initiative because of the Sino-Soviet split. If Moscow moved to promote negotiations, the Chinese would brand Russia to the whole Communist world as a traitor to the Communist cause and soft on Western "imperialists."

Peking has no reason to want Hanoi to stop fighting. It helps Hanoi to wage the war and is perfectly willing to see North Viet Nam fight to the last North Vietnamese. The aggression against South Viet Nam carries out Mao's militant doctrine, that "power comes out of the barrel of a gun," at little expense to Red China.

Hanoi, though it sees the war going badly, rebuffs all moves for a peace conference. It knows that the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam are politically weak and must resort to terror tactics to exert power. Hanoi fears that a peace conference would destroy Viet Cong morale.

These are the deterrents to getting peace talks underway.

Crime Commission To Get Thorny Job

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

He will ask the blue-ribbon group to broaden its crime survey to include "a searching and critical study of the causes of the recent racial riots and disturbances in major U.S. cities."

This dynamite-loaded inquiry was urged by Democratic congressional leaders in a warning that pressure is mounting in and out of Congress for forceful federal measures against the steadily increasing violence in the streets.

AT A WHITE HOUSE meeting the legislators, headed by Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., told the President that while congressional committees plan to examine riots in several cities, the National Crime Commission should undertake a thorough and comprehensive nationwide study.

The lawmakers pointed out that the inquiry could be made under the broad authority given the commission when it was established by Congress in 1965. This mandate authorizes the commission "to inquire into the causes of crime and delinquency measures for their prevention, the adequacy of law enforcement and administration of justice, and the factors encouraging respect or disrespect for law."

ALTHOUGH INDICATING general approval of the proposal, the President said he wanted to discuss it with his Cabinet before reaching a final decision.

Meanwhile Attorney General Katzenbach, who heads the Crime Commission, has informed the White House that he feels such an investigation should be delayed until the committee submits its report on the extent and nature of crime in the U.S. It is Katzenbach's view that the commission should be allowed to concentrate all its attention on completing this study before undertaking a new job.

CRIME COMMISSION insiders are hinting that its report will be a blockbuster and may be as politically explosive as some of the riots.

IN BRIEFING a group of federal officials on the commission's work, Associate Director Arthur Rosett cited some of its findings, as follows:

"In convening the commission at its first meeting, President Johnson charged it to ignore 'petrified opinions' and be 'daring, creative and revolutionary' in its recommendations. The commission is trying to remain faithful to this goal.

"The hard, central facts, as we look at the way the system of criminal justice works today, are that the evidence is very thin and the case is very weak for the beliefs that our system works and that the machinery of the courts has a significant tendency to deter criminal conduct.

"FOR THE FIRST TIME, we are developing concrete indications that crime reports are but the visible part of the iceberg, and that there may be several times as many serious crimes committed as are reported to the police or as are reported by the police.

"Look in the courts of almost any big city and see how many prosecutions are dropped because witnesses stop appearing after five, six or seven needless appearances each involving the loss of wages and business."

Larkspur City Councilman Adds New Home, Real Estate To City

Larkspur City Councilman Neil R. Brixon has succeeded in bringing another piece of Greenbrae real estate onto the city's tax rolls. In the process, he has bought himself a new home.

On July 20, the city council adopted a resolution completing the annexation to Larkspur of a house at 30 La Cuesta Drive. Soon after that, Brixon bought the home from Greenbrae developer Niels Schultz. He filed a form with City Clerk Judy Beal last week, announcing he has changed his residence from 329 North Almenar Drive to 30 La Cuesta.

ALL THE PROPERTY surrounding the councilman's new home was annexed to Larkspur in 1954. The Schultz land remained an unincorporated island because the developer was in Europe at the time and unable to sign the annexation petition.

The San Anselmo City Council this week received a report from some of the community's resident public relations counselors. Among other suggestions were included the recommendations that San Anselmo change its name from "The City of . . ." to "The Village of San Anselmo" and that it change its official nickname from "The Hub City" to a name chosen in a community contest.

THIS WON'T DO, gentlemen. I am certain that San Anselmo will continue to be known as the Hub City, at least to the headline writers of the Independent - Journal. Whereas "San Anselmo" can sometimes be rather unwieldy in the headline format, "Hub City" always seems to fit. I'm afraid something like "Gateway To Fairfax" would be a nightmare — probably for all concerned.

AS FOR SUBSTITUTING "village" for the "city"—there are people who might find this name-changing laughable. For example, there is the commuter. To him, "village" probably connotes a peaceful community somewhat isolated from the problems of 20th Century America. What will he think of your euphemism when trying to navigate through the 5:30 p.m. maze of traffic at the Hub? (However, I do begin to see the thought processes which went into the suggestion to change that name from the "Hub City.")

Stinson Beach residents organized a spontaneous and successful skunk hunt after the skunk bit an Oakland woman who was vacationing there.

Rual mail delivery from Marin post offices ended with the passing of the Mill Valley Rural Route 1 as city delivery service was established at Belvedere-Tiburon.

The Ross Town Council reluctantly told county officials it would share its new 1 per cent local sales tax with the county on a 90-10 basis.

Liberal Blasts Harder To Ignore Than Dubious Charges Of Kooks

My hate mail comes from two totally different sources, otherwise antithetical but cobelligerents against me. There are, first, the kooks who offer dubious data and warn of horrendous cabals. These see a Jewish conspiracy to rule the world; can show by the Bible that Negroes are not human beings; and assert the Vatican is tunneling a secret passage to the White House, begun under Kennedy and almost completed by Luci's conversion.

All of which is supported by forged documents, citations from other kooks and the tortuous sort of cryptology by which it is proved that either Bacon or Roger Manners, 15th Earl of Rutland, really wrote the plays attributed to Shakespeare. Using that same technique, my own research indicates that Hamlet was written by neither, but by the First Duke of Glendale, Casey Stengel.

NOW THESE stumblebum witch-hunters are easily dismissed, for the application of even a grain of common sense reduces their arguments to utter nothingness. And, happily, they have no followers but themselves.

Harder to laugh off are the pros of the Liberal Establishment, who preach that every conservative is, per se, "anti-labor, anti-Negro and anti-Semitic." Their arguments are as jejune, their reasoning as fallacious, but they have the status of respectability and the bludgeon of power behind them and they use both like big-leaguers. You don't know what hatred is till these modern-day Torquemadas, intent on exterminating any traces of heresy, pour out their wrath on you.

E.g., the morning mail brings a note denouncing me for supporting Ronald Reagan and enclosing a clipping from the sacrosanct New Republic in which Reagan is termed "anti-labor, anti-Negro, anti-intellectual, anti-planning and anti-20th Century." Q.E.D.

ALL BUT the first two terms may go as legitimate politicking. Certainly Reagan opposes the self-styled intellectuals of the New Republic school who plan a 20th Century that would transform us into a collectivist monolith, bearing no trace of the Republic the Constitutional Convention gave us.

But "anti-labor and anti-Negro" are exactly the same sort of malicious slander the kooks resort to. The difference is that the big-league character-assassins have the power to repeat the Big Lie, not only in the New Republic but in the hundreds of other outlets the Establishment offers them.

The record shows that Reagan was for years the highly popular and respected head of one of Hollywood's most powerful unions, the Screen Actors' Guild. But that doesn't matter now that he's a Republican. And that, of course, makes him automatically anti-Negro.

STILL, THE NEW Republic bit isn't par for the course, since it omits the third cliche, "anti-Semitic." That is being taken care of elsewhere. Some months ago, you may recall, a local sheet made such an innuendo, and I promptly offered to donate $1,000 to the publisher's favorite charity if he would produce a scrap of evidence to bear him out.

My grand is still safe, but the boys are apparently working on it. During the Governors' Conference held here recently, Reagan was invited to address some of them at a luncheon at a local golf club. Naturally, he leaped at the chance — wouldn't any candidate?

And promptly the Anti-Defamation League, which appears to be desperate of late in its efforts to find traces of anti-Semitism, demanded of Reagan an explanation of how he came to eat at a club which, it asserted, bars Jews.

Now I have no first-hand knowledge of that club's bylaws. I have eaten there a few times at a friend's invitation, however, and was never asked to assume a different name in order to avoid embarrassment.

AT ANY RATE, Ronnie wrote back to the ADL that he had lunched there with the governors and saw no harm in it, since his opponent, Pat Brown, was an honorary member of the said club and, indeed, had played a round of golf there just a few days before. Why not, he suggested, ask Pat about it?

He's heard nothing further. And that's only natural, since Dore Schary, head of ADL, is an ultraliberal Democrat—and you can't expect the same strict rules to apply to a member of the Establishment.

That wouldn't be kosher.

Reception Slated At New Library

A reception will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at Mill Valley's new library for the architects, contractors, craftsmen, city officials and library staff. Admission is by invitation.

A public reception will be held Aug. 21 from 4 to 7 p.m.

Federal Jury Indicts Banker In East Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Donald J. Hatch, a former official of the National Bank of Berkeley, was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on 20 counts of larceny and false statements involving more than $1.3 million.

However, U. S. Atty. Cecil Poole told Federal Judge Geogre B. Harris that the figure was only about a third of the amount Hatch borrowed from the bank on illegal loans.

He was accused in 13 counts of bank larceny of taking $967,767, and the seven counts of making false statements involved $379,900. The accused was expected to surrender to U.S. marshals today.

BANK MERGED

Hatch, 46, of Orinda is a former member of the board of directors of the bank, which was absorbed into the Central Valley National Bank Aug. 8 as its Berkeley Branch.

Hatch joined the bank as a director four months after it opened in 1964 with a total capital of $1.5 million. A federally chartered bank, by law, can loan an individual borrower only 10 per cent of its total capital — and thus Hatch would have been eligible to borrow only $150,000.

Poole told the judge that the alleged larceny was made by means of large loans secured from assignment of life insurance policies. He said the assignments and notes had been forged.

"BETTER THINGS"

Hatch was accused of taking the proceeds of the loans and converting them to his own use and benefit. The money, Poole said, was used by Hatch for investments in real estate and stocks and "to enjoy the better things in life."

Poole said there had been some reimbursements, but the exact amount was still not known.

Depositors in the bank will lose nothing nor will their deposits be in jeopardy, Poole said. The risk, if any, would be to the shareholders, he said.

Casino Bosses Testifying In Secret Nevada Hearing

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dapper, traditionally tight-lipped Las Vegas gambling casino bosses are answering questions asked by Nevada gambling investigators at a secret hearing.

But Chairman Milton Keefer of the Nevada Gaming Commission declined to say whether the answers substantiated reports that some multimillion dollar casinos are funneling untaxed profits into underworld vice and crime operations elsewhere.

Appearance of six officials and employees of the Desert Inn hotel-casino on the Las Vegas Strip yesterday consumed the entire second day of the commission's investigative hearings.

The Desert Inn testimony had not been expected to last a full day.

"All of them answered every question," Keefer said.

Each testified under oath, but Keefer would not say whether they divulged any information which might lead to gambling license revocation action — a death knell for a casino in Nevada.

Keefer hoped the Las Vegas phase of the hearings could be ended today with testimony from two unidentified Desert clerks; officials of the Desert Inn - affiliated Stardust, The Flamingo and The Dunes — all on The Strip.

Gov. Grant Sawyer and Keefer, a former FBI man and Sawyer appointee, called the hearings July 15 in reply to FBI testimony at a federal court in Denver this summer that agents "bugged" the Desert Inn to gain evidence of "criminal and unlawful activity."

So far as is known, the government has declined to give the state any evidence it collected through its Las Vegas eavesdropping. Keefer will not say whether federal agents will be called in to testify.

Braceros Slated For California

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The U.S. government will admit 6,000 Mexican braceros to work on farms in California, U.S. Ambassador Fulton Freeman said last night.

The diplomatic envoy stressed this does not mean the ban on foreign migratory workers will be lifted or that a new bracero agreement is to be signed between Mexico and the United States. Fulton said he did not know of any other negotiations to admit more braceros to work in Arizona, New Mexico or Texas, which also have requested mexican workers to help at harvest time.

Previous unofficial reports said at least 10,000 Mexican workers have been requested by those states.

House Votes To Curb Base Shutdowns

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House approved yesterday a measure to add facilities at military bases and to regulate the Defense Department's authority to close them.

The $1 billion defense bill would authorized construction at 280 military bases around the world during the next 12 months.

But the bill's challenging feature was a provision that would require the President to notify Congress 30 days before he decided to close down or reduce any domestic military installations employing over 250 persons.

Clerks To Sue Post Department

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The United Federation of Postal Clerks says it plans to file suit against the Post Office Department in a dispute over irregular work schedules.

The 160,000-member federation in convention here voted unanimously yesterday to sue the department in an attempt to force it to comply with a pay-over-time bill enacted last year by Congress.

The suit will be filed in Washington in two or three weeks on behalf of all U.S. postal employes, a federation spokesman said.
